Form Chart Followed In Most Games

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

With only one exception, the 53rd annual Nebraska State High School Basketball Tournament ran according to the form chart.

Rather than featuring team upsets, the prep cagers put the emphasis on brilliant individual scoring.

No less than 15 players in 4 classes registered 20 points during the first day's activity at the University of Nebraska Coliseum, Earl Johnson Activities Building, Nebraska Wesleyan's Taylor Gym and Pershing Auditorium.

Three Records

And a trio of hot-shooters posted new (since return to 4 classes in 1960) records, with the top production being supplied by Kurt Lauer of Gibbon who tallied 46 points. Lauer's total came on 16 field goals and 14 of 22 free throws—with the field goal mark and 46 points both going in the books as all-class records.

In addition, Lauer becomes the top scorer in 3 Class C categories: most points (old record 35), most field goals (old record 15) and most free throws (old record 10).

Lauer's record-breaking spree led Gibbon to a 78-75 victory over Stanton in the tourney's top game of the day, a 3-overtime affair at the Public Schools Activities Building.

Anderzunas Pops 33

Class A also supplied a record-buster in Wally Anderzunas of Creighton Prep who logged 33 points as the Junior Jays popped North Platte, 68-64, at the NU Coliseum Thursday night.

And in Class D action at Taylor Gym, Doug Tietjen of De Witt hit a bucket at the final gun — after scoring 10 points in the final 1:31 of play — to tally 32 points and establish a new record.

Anderzunas beat his own Class A field goal record of 13 by hitting 15, in addition to erasing the total point mark held by Fred Hare of Omaha Tech, 31 set last year. Hare scored 22 points Thursday afternoon as Tech bombed Hastings, 75-57.

Other Class A games in the opening round saw Columbus rip Scottsbluff, 60-49, and Omaha Central pull away in the 3rd quarter to eliminate Lincoln High, 52-45.

One Mild Upset

Class B games Thursday night featured the only mild upset of the first day — Pierce's 67-61 bouncing of York — and Falls City's 50-48 squeaker past Madison. In afternoon games, Minden beat Blair, 66-50, and Ogallala nudged past Burwell, 45-42.

Prior to the Gibbon-Stanton rouser in Class C, Scribner sneaked past Sidney St. Patrick, 61-59. In afternoon play, Tecumseh whipped Omaha St. Joseph, 58-50, and Utica defeated Ponca, 63-54.

Night action in Class D found Herman dumping Dix, 64-49, and Maywood taking a 41-37 win over Elba. Tietjen sparked De Witt to a 60-44 romp over Center in the afternoon opener and Polk beat Lawrence, 56-51, in the other p.m. contest at Taylor.

Semis Set

Here's the way the semi-final action lines up today:

Class A—Omaha Tech and Columbus meet at 7 p.m., at the NU Coliseum; Creighton Prep and Omaha Central follow at 8:45 p.m.

Class B — Minden meets Ogallala at 7 p.m., at Pershing; Falls City and Pierce follow at 8:45 p.m.

Class C—Tecumseh goes against Utica at 12 noon, at the Coliseum; Scribner and Gibbon follow at 1:45 p.m.

Class D—DeWitt and Polk square off at 12 noon, at Pershing; Herman and Maywood follow at 1:45 p.m.

U.S. Railroads, Unions Asked To Renew Their Negotiations

Washington (AP) — The government requested the nation's railroads and their on-train worker unions Thursday night to resume negotiations in their stalemated work rules dispute.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz made the request in a public statement. Talks were broken off in Chicago Wednesday after they had resumed for only an hour and a half.

"The parties share the obligation to do everything possible without delay to reach a settlement on this controversy," Wirtz said in his statement. A Labor Department spokesman said Wirtz by this meant the carriers and unions should resume talks without delay.

Until March 29

The labor secretary said it will take until about March 29 for a recent Supreme Court decision regarding the dispute to become effective. Until then an injunction is outstanding against the carriers' putting their desired manpower economies into effect.

The court decision upheld the railroads' right to make the economy moves. Under court procedures, however, it will take until March 20 for the high court mandate to become effective.

Wirtz said the intervening time should be used in bargaining on the manpower issue. The carriers claim many thousands of workers are no longer needed and should be fired as "featherbedders."

Obligation

"This dispute must ultimately be settled by the parties themselves," Wirtz said. "Their interests and the public interest demand that it be settled fairly and that it be settled peaceably. The parties share the obligation to do everything possible without delay to reach a settlement of this controversy."

In Chicago, a rail union head said he agreed "heartily" with Wirtz' statement.

Charles Luna, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said, "this thing has to be settled across the bargaining table. We're willing and ready to negotiate—and we'd be meeting here today if we could get them to stay in the same room long enough."

Wirtz said there apparently is some public misunderstanding of the present state of the dispute. He said it won't be until after March 29, if there is no bargained settlement by then, that the government will consider naming an emergency board under the Railway Labor Act to consider the dispute.

"No action under the Railway Labor Act would be appropriate," he said, "until the effective date of the court order."

Argentina's Forces On Full-Scale Alert

Buenos Aires, Argentina (AP) — Argentina's armed forces went on full-scale alert Thursday and the divided government debated its course in the face of a new Peronist bid for power.

A reported Vatican decision lifting excommunication against ex-dictator Juan D. Peron, now in exile in Madrid, Spain, raised hopes of his followers girding for a comeback in June elections.

Obviously alarmed at signs of Peronist resurgence, military leaders ordered the full-dress alert. Federal police also took security measures at key installations but these were ordered lifted later in the day. Extra guards made no immediate move to leave various communications centers, however.

The military, professed opponents of any Peronist revival, had shown mounting anxiety following an electoral court ruling that certified a Peronist front party, Union Popular, for the nationwide elections June 23.

The navy in particular has vowed that "the era of dictatorship can never return." Naval forces were reported in a state of "battle readiness."

Civilian members of President Jose Maria Guido's government are in favor of Peronist participation in the election campaign. The cabinet was summoned into full session Friday to consider the situation.

Frondizi Out

Guido came to power a year ago when the military deposed President Arturo Frondizi following sharp, Peronist electoral gains. Held for many months on a navy island, Frondizi was moved earlier this month to a mountain resort in southern Argentina. He has refused to resign or go into exile.

The army's commander in chief, Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania, may hold the key hand in future developments. Ongania, who led a rebellion last September that laid the basis for the scheduled elections, has just completed a 3-week tour of military bases in the United States.

TAX ADVANCED

Committee's Vote Is 5-2

BIG CROWD ATTRACTED BY MEASURE TAXING INCOME

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The proposed state income tax bill Thursday was advanced to the floor of the Legislature on a 5-2 vote of the Revenue Committee following a marathon public hearing.

Action came in an executive session immediately following testimony by the 43rd and final witness.

Prior to sending the bill to the floor, the committee brushed aside on a 2-4 vote an effort to kill the measure, LB612. Then, Sen. Kenneth Bowen's revised version of the proposal was adopted on a 5-1 count.

Committee Chairman Jules Burbach of Crofton told newsmen that members of the legislative unit directed him to request Bowen to be ready to debate the bill on the floor by about April 1.

In that manner, committee members believe, the basic tax decision can be made early instead of acting as a drag on other legislative proposals.

The committee also issued a statement that it believes amendments suggested at the 4-hour public hearing should be considered on the floor "in order to make the bill as good and fair and just as possible."

A companion bill, LB613, which would meet constitutional requirements of removing the state from the property tax field if an income tax is adopted, was held pending the fate of LB612.

At the public hearing, Nebraska farm organizations stood almost alone against spokesmen for business, industry and labor in supporting the income tax proposal.

The public showdown attracted a standing-room, overflow crowd of nearly one thousand to the ornate West Senate Chambers where the Legislature itself meets weekday mornings.

Balconies Filled

The balconies were filled almost entirely with farmers and farm families, who broke legislative decorum twice — to applaud one of LB612's cosponsors, Sen. Lloyd Stalder of Humboldt, and to boo Sen. Michael Russillo of Omaha, who opposed the measure.

Only the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce and one Lincoln property owner joined rural spokesmen in voicing support for the proposal.

Lined up against the bill was a broad scope of economic interests, including the Associated Industries of Nebraska, the State Chamber of Commerce, the Nebraska Investment Bankers Association, the Association of Nebraska Taxpayers and a number of labor organizations, including the State AFL-CIO.

Forty-three witnesses, including 5 senators, strode to the microphones, some referring to charts and statistics, others reading poetry and quoting the scriptures.

Bowen, the Red Cloud senator who headed the Legislative Council's interim tax study committee, told Revenue members that an income tax would be "a fair tax based on ability to pay."

As a replacement for the state property tax, it would provide property tax relief, he declared, assure more widespread citizen participation in state government, feature certainty and convenience of payment and collection, and economy of administration.

Other proponents included the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, the Farmers Union, the State Grange, the Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association, the Adams County Board of Supervisors, the chairman of the Douglas County school reorganization committee and a number of individual farmers.

Lift 'Unfair' Burden

They argued that the bill will help lift "an unfair, inequitable and discriminatory" tax burden from agriculture, and redistribute it according to ability to pay.

The committee was also told that an income levy would encourage investment in the state and provide a spur to school district reorganization.

Opponents countered that an income tax would be an additional, not a replacement, tax; that it would result in increased government and additional expenditures, and that it would inevitably lead to a general sales tax.

In addition, they asserted that LB612 would harm industrial development programs and even lead to state control of education.

Provisions Attacked

Specific provisions of LB612 which came under the heaviest attack were its lack of a corporate income tax; no exemptions for children; its tax relief for absentee landowners; its flexible rate, and its possible effect on the retired and students.

Besides, opponents argued, a vast majority of Nebraskans do not favor it.

Nik Pushes For Farm Factories

Moscow (AP) — Premier Khrushchev made public Thursday a plan to spur lagging agriculture, with farms turned into virtual factories where workers no longer can raise their own livestock for private sale.

Khrushchev's plans for attacking the soft spot in the Soviet economy, agriculture, was outlined in a speech to agricultural officials of the Russian Federal Republic, the big core of the Soviet Union reaching from the Pacific to the Baltic. The speech Tuesday was reported by the Moscow press Thursday.

Ever optimistic in his speeches, Khrushchev declared that the agricultural reorganization launched in December will "bear fruit, accelerate the realization of the great plans in the construction of communism."

Khrushchev hammered on his favorite theme, that farms should be converted into factories, with the workers living in centralized areas and eating from communal dining halls.

He said the ideal of a big state farm would be to have about 5 worker settlements. Instead, he said, they have 50 to 60 settlements, and each farmer holds determinedly to his own little tract of land, his own cow and pig.

He said that instead of the private cows and pigs, the state farms should provide the workers with milk, meat and vegetables and have a low price communal dining room for each settlement.

Struggle

"Then the workers on state farms will not need their own cattle. We have to struggle against those who raise cattle for milk and meat speculation."

At present these little individual holdings, usually less than an acre, supply most of the poultry of the Soviet Union and a large share of the meat and milk. All these products are sold freely by the peasants on open markets at prices above those fixed in state stores.

As usual, Khrushchev punctuated his speech with stories. A cow, he said, is a horizontal blast furnace.

"What you put in here, you get out here," he said.

Pravda, publishing the speech, said he illustrated the store with graphic gestures that brought laughter from the farm audience.

He advised some farmers in the southern semidesert areas to go back to camel raising because cows couldn't live on the sparse land.

"A camel gives milk, leather and wonderful wool," he said.

The premier emphasized again that production in most big state and cooperative farms is not up to schedule.

Arab Leaders Are Closer To Rapport

Cairo (AP)—The revolutionary leaders of Egypt, Syria and Iraq reported Friday that they are "relatively close" to some sort of untiy agreement after a 5-hour conference with President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The leaders broke up at 1:30 a.m. and scheduled a new session for noon.

It appeared that the new rulers of Iraq and Syria were pushing hard for quick agreement on a pact, while Nasser evidently was making a determined effort to impose his own views.

To Form Committee

Syrian Prime Minister Salah Bitar announced in Damascus that steps are under way to set up a joint committee to pave the way for a federal union of the 3 states. Bitar said the committee's proposals will be presented to a plebiscite of Syrian, Iraqi and Egyptian peoples.

The pace of talks that have been going on in the wake of the Syrian coup of last Friday suddenly quickened with the surprise return here of a delegation from Iraq to join scheduled conferences of the Syrians with President Nasser of the United Arab Republic (Egypt).

It seemed possible that events were boiling up faster than the participants had anticipated — notably Nasser, who throughout the present series of Arab crises has been cautious. Syria broke away from Nasser's UAR in September 1961, and he is apparently facing the current enthusiasms with this in mind.

It was reported in Damascus that the UAR, Syria and Iraq had already agreed in principle to form a federal Arab republic. It was reported by equally well informed quarters in Cairo that far too many questions remain unanswered to make such a step immediately possible.

SURRENDER MAO'S PRICE

. . . Will Khrushchev Pay?

An AP News Analysis
By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Mao Tze-Tung's price for peace between Red China and the Soviet Communist Party appears to be complete surrender by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

The exchange of Moscow-Peking letters on the need to patch up differences, therefore, seems likely to accomplish little unless Khrushchev is forced by desperation—or by his own party—to make the attempt.

Red China's response to a Soviet Communist initiative to end their costly word battle has the sound of a studied affront to the Kremlin leader. The text gives the reader an impression that Mao feels he has Khrushchev on the defensive.

Eager

Obviously eager to remove the wrangle from public view, the Russians took the first step toward a Chinese-Soviet meeting. Their letter was dated Feb. 21. The Chinese waited until March 9 to reply.

In the interim they mounted a massive and violent propaganda offensive to place their case before the world Communist movement. The effort included a 400,000-word article in Red Flag, the Chinese theoretical journal, implying Khrushchev was a traitor to Leninism and hinting broadly that he might come to an unpleasant end.

Only after getting this off their chests did the Red Chinese reply formally to the politely worded Soviet bid for peace. The reply was condescending, almost to the point of insult.

Committee Level

The chances are that some sort of Chinese-Soviet Communist meeting is in the works at central committee level. But little can be done without a face-to-face meeting of Mao and Khrushchev.

If the Soviet leader accepted on terms laid down in the Chinese letter, it would indicate more Khrushchev desperation than the outside world has suspected. Barring more dickering on terms, Mao's price seems too high.

Mao suggested Khrushchev might stop off in Peking during his scheduled spring state visit to Cambodia in Indochina. But there was no suggestion that Mao was willing to go to Moscow. Khrushchev purports to be the top man of world communism, who would bridle at being the supplicant, going to Peking with hat in hand.

Agenda

The Chinese letter laid down an agenda of what would be discussed, and told the Russians what must be done if the look of peace is to descend upon the world Communist camp:

Khrushchev must break with Tito's Communist Yugoslavia, ending the Moscow-Belgrade reconciliation. Moscow must take the initiative in restoring good relations with the Albanian Communists, who have been denouncing him in crude terms. that the Chinese Party is the equal of the Soviet one.

The Red Chinese agree "temporairly" to suspend replies to all the attacks which have been made on them. Pointedly they reserve the right to continue replying, meeting or no meeting, until all attacks have been answered in full.

Khrushchev must agree that the world situation today requires aggressive action by the Communist movement. This means no more nonsense about the danger of setting off a world war.

Ponder Aid

Apparently, too, Mao wants to talk about Khrushchev's withdrawal of economic aid from China, Khrushchev lack of enthusiasm for a Chinese nuclear weapon, Khrushchev's aid to non-Communist countries where Communists are "persecuted" — such as Egypt and India — and Khrushchev's attitude on the Indian-Chinese border dispute, which the Soviet leader has deplored.

Both sides agree the quarrel is harming the world movement.

JUDGE T. CLARKE

GM Gets Acquittal

Los Angeles (AP) — A federal judge acquitted giant General Motors of anti-trust charges Thursday, ending a suit some said imperiled a basic sales technique, the franchise system.

The government contended in a criminal action that General Motors, the nation's largest corporation, conspired with Chevrolet dealer associations to halt sale of new cars to discount houses.

U.S. Judge Thurmond Clarke said the Justice Department "failed to prove an unfair restraint of trade."

The government said it will continue to push a civil suit filed as a parallel to the criminal case dismissed.

Under the franchise system, authorized dealers are granted exclusive rights to sell products in their territory. At periods when car sales were slow, certain Chevrolet dealers wholesaled cars to discount houses, which sold them to the public at prices under those of franchised dealers.

The government contended that, to put a stop to this practice, General Motors and the dealers associations secretly agreed to pressure offending dealers into stopping the practice.

Judge Clarke said he agreed with the Justice Department that consumers must be protected. But he said the rights of industry under the free enterprise system must be protected, too.

–HOUSEWIVES MAD–

Play Girls From City Not Wanted In Siberia

Moscow (AP)—Irate Siberian housewives protested Thursday against exiling big city play girls to their villages.

Speaking for the aroused village women, Mrs. V. Marina of Irkutsk, voiced the protest in the Moscow newspaper Literaturnaya Gazetta.

Mrs. Marina said she was incensed by reports from Leningrad that a young woman of easy virtue named Tosca was slated for exile to Siberia to mend her ways.

Offensive

"This is simply offensive and insulting for us Siberians," she wrote. "Won't this piece of goods from the capital find admirers even in a new place? She probably will.

"I know that the wives of a few Bodaibo miners, for example, turned to the authorities with a request to quit sending the likes of Tosca to Bodaibo."

Mrs. Marina's attack on the flashy homewreckers from the big cities was the latest in a series of complaints from the provinces about the flood of hooligans, idlers and undesirables who have been exiled to villages.

Re-Educated

The exiles are supposed to be re-educated through manual labor on the farms. But reports indicate they are mostly drinking, brawling, thieving and loafing.

So the peasants are mad at the city people for dumping their problems on them.

'This desire to push their unfinished goods onto others is wrong," Mrs. Marina wrote.

WALTER SCHIRRA

No Place In Space For Gal At Present

New York (UPI) — Astronaut Walter Schirra said Thursday there is no place in space for women, at least at present.

Schirra, interviewed on a children's television program ("Discovery '63"—ABC), admitted he was touching on a "sensitive subject" and added with chivalry that "we will include one (woman) some day in our plans for space flights."

But Schirra, who orbited earth 6 times last October, said someone with "an engineering mind, a scientific background" and who has gone "through stresses of flying high performance aircraft" has the proper background to become an astronaut.

"We have not found women who are typical of meeting this bill of goods or requirement," Schirra declared.

"Therefore," he said, "I would guess very safely we would not see an American woman in space until some time in the 1970s at earliest."

Astronaut Neil Armstrong also appeared on the program.

Schirra cautioned young viewers of the show not to set goals for themselves in space at an early age since there are a number of interesting professions they can follow.

"We commend you for wanting to do it, and encourage it," he said. "But . . . don't think that there are not many other things that are as interesting."

Iraq's Moscow Embassy Pelted

Moscow (UPI) — Thousands of Soviet and Arab demonstrators Thursday pelted the Iraqi Embassy with ink bottles and snowballs in a protest against Iraq's crackdown on Communists.

Blue - coated Soviet policemen stood by watching but not interfering, as the demonstrators broke windows and spattered the building's gray walls with red, black, and green ink stains. Although the Soviet government said the demonstration was "spontaneous," the police let it run for about 3 hours before urging the crowd to go home.

(Baghdad Radio, heard in Beirut, Lebanon, bluntly told Moscow radio to "shut up" its criticisms of the Iraqi revolutionary regime. It said Russia's "stupid and foolish rulers" should let Iraq alone.

(It charged the Soviets forged a "dishonest alliance" with the overthrown regime of Premier Abdul Karim Kassem. "Communist criminals killed our bravest people" during the Kassem regime, it said.)

The demonstration recalled similar attacks against the U.S. and other Western embassies staged to protest actions of the West.

SEX, SALAD, SCOTCH GOOD

Toronto (AP) — Sex, salads and scotch whisky are just the thing for keeping healthy, the 1963 Canadian Health Forum was told here Thursday.

Dr. James Key, associate professor of surgery at the University of Toronto, said there are 4 S's to remember if you want to stave off heart trouble and peripheral blocked arteries.

The first is smoking. Don't, said Dr. Key. But have "plenty of salads, plenty of scotch and plenty of sex, if you can," he recommended.

"But if a man has smoked all his life and is over 50, I don't recommend that he stop," Dr. Key said, "because it may give him a guilt complex and put him in the hands of a psychiatrist, or he'll beat his wife to death."

Latins Can Get U.S. Military Aid

. . . TO HELP PUT DOWN RED UPRISING

Washington (UPI) — The United States is ready to send military help to any Latin American nation threatened by a Communist take over, Assistant Secretary of State Edwin M. Martin said in testmony released Thursday.

Martin's assurances to the House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on Latin America were made public as administration officials reported the Soviet Union appears to be fulfilling its pledge to withdraw several thousand military personnel from Cuba by mid-March.

U.S. authorities did not dispute some reports that at least 3,000 Russians will have left Cuba by this weekend. But they said official intelligence reports indicated the "several thousand" Russia promised would have been met easily by then.

Martin's statement was made before the House group during its 3 week investigation of Cuba - directed subversion in the hemisphere. A censored copy of the previously secret testimony was released Thursday by Chairman Armistead Selden, D-Ala.

Martin, the State Department's specialist in Latin-American affairs, said U.S. policy is to help any government that asks help under the Punta Del Este agreement of 1961 in meeting collectively the threat of Communist subversion.

Selden asked Martin during the hearings:

"In the event Communist subversion reaches the point that some freely elected government in Latin America is overthrown as a result of communist infiltration and subversion, and this freely elected government requests the United States to move in and help them, are we prepared to do so . . . ?"

"Our basic position is that any government which asks us for help in this matter will receive help," Martin replied. "We are prepared militarily in anticipation of a political decision to give it."

Martin also told the subcommittee that the risk of nuclear war would have been "accelerated very greatly" last fall if the United States had continued its blockade of Cuba. He said "we would have raised the level of confrontation with the Soviets to a level which might well have become intolerable for them."

The subcommittee Thursday recommended the United States be ready to use military force, if necessary, in this situation, and to act unilaterally if national security is involved.

'62 Cash Farm Income Rises

...Receipts Stand At $1,354,584,000

Washington (AP)—Cash income from farming in Nebraska increased slightly last year but the net income per farm dropped, the Agriculture Department reports.

Nebraska was one of a dozen states listed with farming receipts of more than $1 billion for the year.

The state's receipts, which include government payments, amounted to $1,354,584,000 in 1962 as compared with $1,350,360,000 in 1961, the report said. But the net income per farm in Nebraska amounted to $4,287, for a decrease of 4%.

"Increase in receipts from cattle and calves, hogs and sorghum grains about offset decreases in receipts from eggs and wheat. Total cash receipts were off slightly from the previous year. Total government payments rose moderately largely because of a sharp increase in receipts from the wheat program.

"Production expenses as a whole were up slightly. Small increases were shown for outlays for purchased feed, livestock, seed, fertilizer and repairs and operation of motor vehicles. Expenses for hired labor were down slightly."

On a national basis, the department said the average net income per farm was $3,537 in 1962, compared with $3,422 the year before.

The report broke down the Nebraska cash receipts this way:

Livestock and products — $827,251,000 in 1961 as compared with $798,212,000 in 1961.

Crops — $425,060,000 (last year) against $463,588,000 in 1961.

Government payments — $101,364,000 in 1962. There was no comparable figure for 61.

The government payments in the state include these specific programs:

Conservation $6,862,000; Sugar Act $2,649,000; Wool Act $801,000; Soil Bank $9,763,000; Great Plains conservation $740,000; 1961 feed grain program $2,466,000; 1962 feed grain program $65,792,000; 1962 wheat program $10,729,000 and 1963 wheat program $1,562,000.

Whitman (AP) — The Burlington Railroad's Lincoln to Billings, Mont., main line was cleared Thursday after being blocked for more than 3 days following a freight train wreck.

The railroad headquarters in Omaha said the single track main line was opened at 4:30 a.m.

Forty-one cars of an eastbound freight of more than 100 cars were derailed 9 miles east of Whitman Sunday night. Passenger trains were rerouted through Brush, Colo., while crews worked to clear the wreckage left by the derailment.

Cause of the wreck had not been definitely determined, the railroad said.

Ashland Man Injured In Two-Car Collision

Archie E. Hightshoe, 49, of Ashland, was treated at a clinic here for minor injuries received in a two-car collision on 17th near K Thursday forenoon.

Hightshoe was stopped for the light at K when a car driven by Jake H. Scott, 77, of 1810 Garfield, ran into the Hightshoe car from behind, police reported. Scott told police that his brakes failed.

Newman had been in the banking business 27 years when he came to Omaha in 1954 from Slayton, Minn., where he was president of the Murray County State Bank.

Survivors include his wife, Helen, and a daughter, Mary. Funeral services will be at Holy Cross Church at 9 a.m. Saturday.

NU Med Faculty 100 Pct. Behind A New Hospital

Omaha (AP) — The University of Nebraska College of Medicine faculty was of one mind Thursday in urging financial support for a modernization program for the college.

About 130 faculty members went on record unanimously supporting a 200-bed hospital to be built on the present campus.

Dean J. Perry Tollman said Thursday the resolution is directed toward the university regents.

It included the pledge to "work energetically to inform the legislators and outstate doctors that the faculty is in full support" of the aims of the resolution.

While specific plans were not spelled out, construction of hospital beds would be linked to the existing unit 3, newest wing of University Hospital.

Dr. Tollman said the resolution will reach the regents through the chancellor.

THE WEATHER

Summary of Conditions

A high pressure area moving from northern Illinois should be in the eastern Virginia area by Friday night. Southerly winds will increase in eastern Nebraska and western Iowa on Friday bringing warmer temperatures to the area.

Cloudiness of a mostly high variety will be on the increase from the west across the state on Friday. A deepening low moving through southwestern Idaho should be in east central Utah by tomorrow evening.

This low is intensifying, and it appears that it will be affecting Nebraska Friday night.

Deep as this storm appears to be, it is quite likely that the precipitation will first occur as rain. Cloudiness will increase Friday and through Friday night, particularly in western Nebraska, and will spread eastward on Saturday. This should make for some cooler temperatures on Saturday by virtue of cloudiness and precipitation.

There is polar air in Canada extending to north of North Dakota and into extreme northern Minnesota, but with this intensifying storm system in the western Rockies, the Polar air is not likely to affect Nebraska or Iowa weather during the next two days.

Curtis Cash-Cutting Try Clobbered By Senators

Washington (AP) — Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., set out Thursday to cut down on some of the Senate's own spending — and was beaten from pillar to post.

"Here's something we can do without," said Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., one of Ellender's few supporters.

They were promptly buried under a 61-18 vote.

Ellender and Curtis were aiming at a series of resolutions providing for spending $4,482,182 on a wide variety of investigations by special committees and subcommittees.

More And More

Ellender told the Senate the investigating payroll has grown through the years until Senate subcommittees now employ 338 persons compared to the 150 on regular committee staffs.

He recalled that the subcommittee on juvenile delinquency was created years ago with the idea of spending $75,000 on one year's investigation.

"We have now spent more than a million dollars on it, with little, if anything, accomplished," he said.

Curtis: 'Futile'

Curtis said efforts to cut the Senate's own spending have been "very discouraging and quite futile."

"I won't say it," he observed, "but I've thought about it a lot, that too many senators want to be chairmen of subcommittees."

Some buildings are so filled with subcommittee staffers, Curtis said, that "it is sometimes difficult to get up and down the corridors. Some senators have increased their own staffs to find out what other staffs are doing."

One of Ellender's initial motions was to trim $11,000 from a $106,000 fund to finance the Housing subcommittee. Chairman John Sparkman, D-Ala., said his investigators are busy checking numerous defaults under government-insured housing mortgages, and all the money was needed.

'Here's Something'

This was where Curtis put in that "here's something we can do without — housing is a private matter," and Ellender said:

"I can't for the life of me see what is accomplished by continually investigating housing. This subcommittee always finds something to do. Here's an opportunity to cut 10%."

The Senate voted 61 to 18 to pass up the opportunity.

When Ellender moved to trim $13,000 from a $175,000 fund for an Armed Forces subcommittee investigating Cuba he ran into protests by Sens. Everett M Dirksen, R-Ill. and Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz. Goldwater said he is an inveterate budget-cutter, but to cut that budget would be penny-wise and pound-foolish.

Armour Plant At Sioux City Closing Soon

Sioux City, Iowa (AP)—Armour & Co. meat packers announced Thursday closing of its main plant here, effective June 16.

The company employs more than 1,100 persons and has an annual payroll of about $7 million.

Gilbert D. Lewis, general manager of the Sioux City plant, said in announcing the closing that it was because of "continuing heavy losses."

He said the reason for the losses is that "production costs are higher than at competing plants and at other Armour & Co. plants."

With the announcement of Armour's pending departure, only Swift & Co. of the big 3 meat packers will still operate here. Cudahy closed its Sioux City plant in the late 1950s.

Sioux City ranked 3rd last year in over-all livestock marketings — a jump from fifth position the previous year.

Armour's leaving would be a blow to the economy of this northwest Iowa city of nearly 90,000 persons.

Armour spent nearly $1 million to modernize its plant in 1956. In fiscal 1955—the only year figures are readily available—the company spent $94,225,000 here.

E. A. Baird Sr., Omaha, Is Dead

Omaha (AP)—Funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. Saturday for Edgar A. Baird Sr., 86, former president of Conservative Savings and Loan Association.

Mr. Baird, who headed the company for 36 years, resigned last June 30 as company president to become chairman of the board.

Mr. Baird was a trustee and a member of the University of Omaha Board of Regents in the 1930s. He was active in the old Omaha Taxpayers and Greater Omaha Associations. He was a graduate of the University of Nebraska law school.

Survivors include sons, Edgar A. Jr., of Omaha and Thomas P. of Princeton, N.J.; a daughter, Mrs. Truman W. Morsman of Omaha, and 3 grandchildren.

State Retail Sales Show Slight Increase Over '62

Nebraska retail sales started the new year with a slight increase over a year ago, up 0.5 per cent, but a rather large decline, down 7.1%, compared with December.

The March issue of Business in Nebraska, prepared by the University of Nebraska Bureau of Business Research, reported that Beatrice showed the greatest increase in retail sales among the major cities in January, up 24.8% over a year ago.

Among the stores, home equipment reported a 7.9% increase and general merchandise, up 3.0%. Luxury goods stores were down 10.1%.

However, in the general unadjusted city index, the state reported a 5.6% climb over a year ago. Used to compile this index are bank debits, building activity, retail sales, electricity and gas consumed, water pumped, postal receipts, and news advertising.

Those cities showing increases in the city index were: Holdrege, up 13.6%; Columbus, 13.2; Hastings 12.4; Kearney 7.8; Broken Bow, 9.0; Fairbury, 8.7; Norfolk, 8.4; Sidney, 7.8; South Sioux City, 7.6; Omaha, 7.5; Lincoln, 6.4; Fremont, 6.0; McCook, 5.0; Falls City, 18; North Platte, 1.5; and Grand Island, 0.7.

Showing increases were: Alliance, down 3.6; Scottsbluff, 3.5; Nebraska City, 2.6; and Chadron, 1.8.

The city-by-city index of January retail sales, adjusted for season changes, follows:

Floods Unlikely Although Rivers Watched Closely

A close watch is being kept on Nebraska rivers for any flood indications, state Civil Defense Director Maj. Gen. Lyle A. Welch said Thursday.

But Welch said so far nothing unusual has been reported. Observations are being made by Air National Guard planes, among other sources. Welch is also the state adjutant general.

The picture is more promising than last year. Unless a "tremendous" amount of moisture falls in the near future, Welch does not foresee any flooding like Nebraska endured a year ago.

But he cautioned that a heavy rain or snow could cause a heavy runoff and might spill some rivers over their banks.

Welch said the state might have been in flood trouble if an expected blizzard last week had materialized.

Rivers which have flooded in past years include the Platte, Loup and the Elkhorn.

Shifting Tax Burden

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It is likely that people are beginning to tire of all the talk about taxes but the situation is one that merits a great deal of discussion. Touched on here yesterday was the proposal in the Legislature by Sen. Marvin Stromer of Lincoln to force the city of Lincoln to accept the property valuations of Lancaster County. The objective of the senator is one with which many people would agree, including this writer, but the proposal is not without its liabilities.

At present, the greatest stumbling block to any such consolidation between the city and county is the difference that exists between the assessments of the two governmental subdivisions. On an average, the county is about 10 per cent higher on residential property than is the city and 10 per cent lower than the city on business and industrial. If the city is forced to accept county valuations, it would result in a substantial shifting of the tax burden—a total shift of 20 per cent against the home owner and a 20 per cent gain on the part of business and industry.

The Gap Is Large

Much opinion runs in favor of this because the county has what is described as a scientific appraisal of its property. Years ago it hired an outside firm to come in and assess all the property in the county on a scientific basis. This included the use of certain factors that were applied equally to all property so that every assessment would be fair in relation to the other.

The only trouble is that to call something scientific doesn't make it so. The city can maintain that it is scientific in much of its appraisal work, too, as it also uses certain factors. It has a set formula it uses to arrive at the assessment figure for property. The question really is not who is the most scientific, but rather, who is correct?

Particularly on business property, we are a long way from convinced that the county is right and the city is wrong. Our inclination, in fact, is just the opposite. One possible solution to this conflict is found in the approach by Senator Stromer. The consolidation he seeks would not be mandatory until the county has obtained a new reappraisal of all its property. There is no guarantee, of course, as to what such a reappraisal would produce. It could widen the gap between city and county assessments or it could close the gap considerably. It is vital, however, that the reappraisal be a cooperative effort between the city and county and one in which people will have confidence.

Many home owners in Lincoln could end up in a relatively few years with a phenomenal increase in taxes if public officials are not very careful of what they do. If the Legislature passes an income tax—a possibility that seems to grow more likely all the time—and eliminates the tax on intangibles, this alone would bring about a lot of shifting of taxes. The city, county and school district would all have to add to their levy enough to make up for the loss of intangible tax income. This could well be half the 11 mills the state would eliminate from property taxes if it adopts the income tax. A city and county assessment consolidation could so shift the tax burden further as to add the other half of the state cut onto many home owners. Thus, some home owners could experience no tax reduction at all as a result of the income tax measure and so-called improved conditions between the city and county.

And while they obtained no property tax relief, such home owners could be hit with an income tax that would constitute a 100 per cent new tax for them. And this income tax could be substantially more than they are now paying the state under the existing property tax, depending upon the individual's income and the value of his home.

If changes in our tax system are demanded, then they should be made and if equity works an immediate hardship on some people, that is that and must be accepted. We cannot object to changes simply because they would make things difficult for some people. Special favors to a few are not to be continued just because they have spoiled their recipients and given them an advantage that is now distasteful to surrender.

But even more incumbent upon public officials is a sure determination of just what is right and what is wrong. In the case of Lincoln and Lancaster County, it certainly is not enough merely to say that the county has a "scientific" appraisal of its property. The word "scientific" has a lot of glamour these days but it works no special magic. There would be considerably more support for a consolidation of city and county assessments if the final figures to be used were the product of a joint effort between the two governments.

Consideration Of Both

There is little question that if this conflict in assessment figures can be resolved, the consolidation suggested would be an advantageous step. The program offers the two-fold advantage of savings and convenience to the taxpayers and has already been delayed for too long.

One-Man Show

Same Old Party Line

It was edifying to read that Premier Nikita Khrushchev felt it incumbent to remind the faceless element of the Russian world that Soviet freedom is still no more and no less than that which it was at the outset—non-existent.

He is remindful of a Marine Sergeant reminding his men that "at ease" does not mean they are out of the Corps.

Soviet freedom means freedom from such evil distractions as expressing thoughts not desired by the ruling hierarchy — a comfortable and practiced habit of undeviating thought according to the party line. The will of the individual must dissolve in the interest of the collective and the will of the collective must dissolve in the interest of the dictator.

And that's just where we came in a few decades ago, except for the fact that the dictatorship hasn't been bashing in skulls with former abandon. It may have to get around to that again.

Some of the Russian people made the mistake of concluding that de-Stalinization had to do with essence rather than the form. They fell prey to the western confusion of considering freedom as something that liberates the individual. Some of the intellectuals got so far out of line as to suggest applying the rules of logic and critical examination to official practices and policies. We imagine they will now confess their faults and ask for the punishment that is their due.

This news is only valuable to the West in that it makes it clear that there is no real change in Russian communism, although for a time it appeared there was. But it should be informative to Albania and Red China.

Bishop Oxnam

Age and infirmity have ended the life of Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, distinguished Methodist churchman, one of the early presidents of the World Council of Churches and always a forth-right courageous champion of his faith.

It is to be said of Bishop Oxnam that he did not believe in adjusting his church to the convenience of changing times but in insisting that changing times must remain within the metes and bounds of Christian ethics. Such an individual inevitably encounters controversy, but the bishop was both willing and able to confront it. When he was slurred by vague allegations of being a socialist fellow traveler he bearded the House Committee on Un-American Activities and gave his would-be accusers a sound thrashing. At the conclusion the committee gave him a clean bill of health.

The bishop left several memorable statements. One was his insistence that "communism will never win a just and democratic America." Another was, "We are opposed to the police state, whether left or right and will not rest until all men are free, not only to vote, but to enjoy the abundance of life." In such positions he rose above sectarianism. There was militance in his attitude. But there was comfort and strength for many in what he said and did.

The world was made better for having known him. And he lived at a time when his courage was needed. His passing is cause for sadness but it is mitigated by the fact that he left a rich heritage, such as will last long enough to help people through a time of trial.

Cheers And Tears

Thousands from around the state have come to Lincoln at this time for the annual festival known as the state basketball tournament. The experience is a delightful one for all concerned. Those who come arrive with great hopes and some of these hopes will be dashed to the ground before they leave but they also come with great pride and spirit and these things they retain.

The state tournament brings with it all the enthusiasm and determination of youth and this is always a rewarding thing to see. In many quarters there is an inclination to deride the young people of today as laggards, as looking for a handout and as apathetic to the condition of the world around them. Actually, nothing could be further from the truth than this and the young people in Lincoln for this tournament are ample proof of this.

Many of them come with the odds against them because they will be going up against teams that have a physical advantage over them but you won't find a team in the tournament that fails to battle it out to the final whistle. And behind them you will find loyal fans who, even though disappointed in defeat, are proud of the records these young people have written and the efforts they have made.

Those who follow the tournament know that the young people of today are energetic, dedicated and capable and will pursue life throughout their careers just as they pursue the spirit that is a part of this state event. Certainly, the tournament is a most welcome event for the sake of the enjoyment it brings to its participants as well as the rewards in a personal sense it passes on to all who observe it.

JFK And Adlai Back In Close Harmony

WASHINGTON—The White House gave a gay dinner dance for Adlai Stevenson last week at which guests did the twist until 4 a.m. Adlai, however, didn't stay that late.

The party was for the purpose of proving that the unpleasantness of the Saturday Evening Post episode was a thing of the past.

Only the Kennedy family, the inner circle, and part of the "Irish mafia" were there — very intime. And what some people didn't notice was the significant fact that the newsman who pinned the "Munich" badge on Adlai was not present. Usually, Charley Bartlett is invited to these small dinner dances. But at the special entertainment for Adlai Stevenson, the Satevepost co-author was not there.

After a lot of secret hocuspocus, Sen. Bill Fulbright, the Arkansas Rhodes Scholar, has started his probe of registered foreign agents. Significantly, the first men called before his sedate and studious Foreign Relations Committee were two mild-mannered representatives of the relatively smaller countries of the world — John O'Donnell, who represents Philippine Sugar, and Irving Davidson, who represents Israel, Nicaragua, and Guatemala.

The Arkansas Democrat subpoenaed their files and raked them over the coals, each for about a day — all behind closed doors.

If he does this to the little fellows, it will be interesting to see what, if anything, he does to the giants of the foreign agent business. Maybe he won't do anything at all. Here is a partial roll call of the creme-de-la-creme of foreign agents, some of whom definitely do influence U.S. foreign policy:

Thomas E. Dewey and law firm — Which got $150,000 from the Turks for helping get a multimillion dollar American steel mill in Turkey. Dewey now gets $101,013.77 from the Japanese in 1962 to promote export trade.

Cleary, Gottlieb and Steen, former law firm of Undersecretary of State George Ball — which represents France, the European Steel Community, and other Common Market affiliates.

Charles Patrick Clark, agent for Dictator Franco of Spain — who collects $97,500 a year for influencing U.S. policy.

Boykin and De Francis, the former a cousin of "all is made for love" Frank Boykin of Alabama — they represent West Germany, Italy, and various German interests.

The Katanga Information Office — which spent large amounts of money to upset U.N. and U.S. policy in the Congo.

Selvage and Lee — which was paid $207,200 to influence the United States in favor of Portugal and her overseas companies.

Treat Tax Bill Like A Foundling

WASHINGTON — Both President Kennedy and Congress are engaged in brisk efforts to improve their public relations positions in connection with a tax cut.

Both were nonplussed when tax cutting failed of instant popularity. The situation forces leadership on them not in broad general terms alone but in specifics.

Legislatively speaking, such specifics are far in the future. The House Ways and Means Committee continues to afford a forum at which the various interests involved, including labor, speak their pieces. These pieces are nearly always a foregone conclusion and attract few headlines.

Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur Mills is keeping his own counsel. He was taken aback when the President retreated from the tax reforms favored by Mills and Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon. During the period of hearings he is not obliged to indicate what he intends to do, and perhaps he doesn't know.

The chairman has no record as a last-ditch fighter. His associates have, however, a feeling that tax reform means a great deal to him, and they doubt that he will give up to a simple tax cut made quickly.

☆ ☆ ☆

In a speech to the Advertising Council, the President shifted the burden to Congress. It had to act on tax cuts, the national debt limit and the size of the budget, he said, and "the wrong answer would spell downturn and disaster." The President brought his top team with him to fortify his arguments.

Democrats are split three ways. Some argue for a bigger slash made more quickly. A few, powerful because seniority has put them in powerful places, will drag their feet on the issue. Most of them will be for what the President wants, or failing that, what appears in the end to be possible of attainment.

Republicans do not want to bear the no-tax-cut responsibility, as so much of business sentiment favors it. They are trying to combine some kind of budget-cutting record with it, but so far it is a sham battle.

The chance of bold leadership rests in two places. One is the White House. The other is the inner council of Democrats in Congress.

The president can trim his goals, demand action and above all proclaim his willingness to accept the risks of his course. He still wants to share those risks with Congress, which is understandable, but Congress just as clearly prefers to blame him.

The elders of the party in the senate and house are today going their own way, announcing their own thoughts and protecting their own interests. They seem unwilling or unable to make a concerted effort to arrive at solutions on large questions beneficial to the country, the Congress and the presidency.

Yet they are singularly free from extremists on the right or left. It has been a long time since they had so few members with their own private visions of utopia. On any important question they should be able to find a consensus if they really seek it.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Remedies Many, Cures Few

By MONA B. PARKER

It's good "head cold" weather, Stanton Register Editor Marlin Waechter said. He, along with nearly everyone else in town, have been on what he calls "a tissue kick." He got one siege of flu and colds licked, he complained, and along came another.

"We heard a lady say the other day that she has taken so many pills this winter that she had to swallow a piece of cotton to keep from rattling!"

☆ ☆ ☆

Harry Morris found much of the same variety of ailments in his journeys about the countryside on behalf of the Wymore Arbor State . . .

"The number of cold remedies available is estimated at quite a figure. The number of cures for colds is known to be zero."

☆ ☆ ☆

Max Martin of the Pawnee Republican received his gas bill for last month and the shock of it chilled him almost as much as the zero weather. But he thought the thing through logically and announced:

"I think about the gas bill, and then think about carrying ashes and coal as a kid, and I am almost convinced that regardless of the size of the bill, it was worth it."

Duane Kunzman of the Laurel Advocate enters a firm protest with officials of the Cedar County courthouse. Mail has been coming from there with outside printing that extols the virtues of the city of Hartington. There are other towns in Cedar County, Mr. Kunzman states, a fact brought home to the "outsiders" especially at this particular time of year.

If the envelopes were not purchased with county funds, it would be a different matter, he said. But the fact remains that the offices are county offices, not city offices, and he protests such a use that glorifies only one town in the county and not the county as a whole.

The Oxford Standard has an original thought which it is passing along to the government:

"May we suggest that some new issue of postage stamps carry a picture of a weeping taxpayer?"

☆ ☆ ☆

The Shelton Clipper speaks up loudly in defense of the small town papers and their presentation of local comings and goings . . .

"In journalism school, it is taught that the personal touch in a country weekly is too, too much. We think that a weekly cannot supplant a daily any more than a daily can supplant a weekly. They each have their own function and it has been proven beyond the shadow of a doubt that the 'personal' projection to a reading public is the personality that creates the difference between a cold, straight shouldered informative daily and the entertaining type of country weekly."

Branting & Son of Stromsburg is one firm that will fulfill a customer's request if it is at all possible to do so. Not long ago a neighboring farmer came in and asked for a walking plow handle. The clerk was unruffled. He went back to the stock room, picked up a walking plow handle and handed it to the customer. The item had been on hand for quite a number of years.

The Bertrand Herald told of one chap who completed a 50-mile hike as a result of some bragging he did. He said afterward that the only good thing to come out of the hike was that it swelled his feet so that he no longer could get them in his mouth.

Habits, and especially those of long standing, the Kearney Hub reminds us, are almost an impossible thing to discard. A Kearney man who had long been accustomed to going about without a hat discovered this recently. He had started to wear a hat again for some reason. Getting ready to comb his hair, he scooped up two handfuls of water and sloshed them over his head—and discovered he was wearing his new hat.

'Kiss Of Death'

Lincoln, Neb.

Years ago when this country was being settled and a large portion of the work was done by hand, the newspaperman in the town or city was considered an authority on politics and if he had an honest reputation, his views carried a lot of weight, enough in most cases to swing elections.

Things have changed now, with all forms of news media, more people engaged in intellectual pursuits and more ease of travel. People now realize that a newspaper editor's view is no better than their own and in lots of cases it is a "kiss of death" for a newspaper to back a candidate.

The average starting salary of engineers is about twice that of journalists just graduating from college.

It must be amusing to some of our brilliant pre-med, pre-law and engineering students for anyone to think they would be influenced by the views of a 90-hour journalism student.

Predictions

Malcolm, Neb.

I was very pleased to hear that State Director of Agriculture Pearle Finigan was instigating an investigation of the market system. This is fine, and about 1,000 years overdue. I would like to make some predictions on what he will find.

First: He can search till his beard grows so long he can walk on it and he will not find the law of supply and demand on any statute books. This so-called "law" should be relegated back to the class of witchcraft, voodooism and the law of the jungle.

Second: He will find, as many suspect, evidence of skulduggery. It is a fact that the Packers and Stockyard Division of the USDA has been busy over two years prosecuting violators.

Third: He will find questionable, unprovable practices of buyers taking turns. Who can prove whether two buyers are flipping a coin for their turn to buy cattle or coffee? And there isn't a buyer in the country who wouldn't be fired if he didn't squeeze the last possible dime out of the seller.

Fourth: He will find that my fall pigs which will not be marketed until May 1 are depressing the market today. And that my spring pigs who have made reservations with the stork in April will depress the market in May.

Fifth: He will find that the meat processors are being squeezed on the other end by the retailers who have become so powerful that they are now dictating prices to the processor.

Sixth: These same retailers by reason of their strength are able to exert such influence that they are able to really hang it on the consumer.

Seventh: These retailers have been busting their buttons and explaining to the consumer how they are saving the consumer money, when in reality the agricultural producers have been subsidizing the economy.

Eighth: He will find that small business is what has made the United States a great nation, and if everything goes to giant corporations, this will no longer be what we now know as America.

Ninth: That the same people who did not foresee 20 years ago the problems agriculture would be confronted with today are not today able to see the problems agriculture is confronted with. Some of these people thought the only thing they needed was free access to the market place. Today when they get there, they find that the market, like the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, has disappeared.

Tenth: He will find that this same thing will go on until agriculture practices what industry practices, instead of what industry preaches.

Farmers' Share

Comstock, Neb.

I see where our governor, Senator Curtis, and State Senator Michael Russillo stand right up in public and defend Nebraska's unfair tax system, a system under which farmers must contribute at the rate of nearly 8 to 1 to educate the public's children, kindergarten through college. Why are such laws upheld when they deprive farmers each year of millions of dollars that other people shold be paying in taxes? And the farmers have no way to defend themselves, since they have a minority of the votes and no organized and paid lobby to speak for them.

How will we protect ourselves against the bill coming up that will place an additional fee of $5 on each car and truck in the state to pave town and city streets?

What do the governor and the senators do for the farmers to earn the 51% of their salaries that we farmers have to pay? We don't get much out of them for our money.

Why should the farmers have to contribute more than half of the state's taxes out of 13% of the state's income?

In behalf of the association, I would like to thank The Star most sincerely for the splendid coverage given to our recent 27th annual Nebraska Rural Electric Association convention held in Lincoln recently. This cooperation in publicizing the functions of our rural electric activities is certainly appreciated.

The "Public Power State" has a vaulable asset for industrial and agricultural development in its low electric rates. With the people of Nebraska behind them, the leaders in power circles can contribute a great deal to this development.

Move To Override Morrison Veto On States Rights Resolution Fails

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Legislative supporters of a states rights resolution Thursday fell two votes short in a hectic, heated effort to override Gov. Frank Morrison's first veto of the 1963 session.

Vote on the motion to overrule the governor was 24-16. Twenty-six votes are required.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who supported the motion, later changed his vote in a parliamentary maneuver which will allow him to move later for reconsideration of the Legislature's action.

At issue was Resolution 4, which seeks to allow the states initiative powers to propose amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

The resolution had earlier been approved by the Unicameral on a 28-10 count.

Morrison's veto of Resolution 5—which seeks to bar federal courts from jurisdiction in state legislative apportionment matters—will be considered at a later date.

Even More Likely

On that proposal, the governor's veto is even more likely to be upheld since the resolution only attracted 24 favorable votes in its earlier floor test.

Thursday's tight count triggered a flurry of maneuvering in which proponents of the resolution placed "the house under call" for more than 15 minutes. A call is a legislative device to require all senators to be in their seats.

Three — Don McGinley of Ogallala, Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln and Matt Wylie of Elgin — were absent.

Noting that Wylie had requested the clerk to seek him out in the event of a tie vote, Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney held that the pending vote "has the same significance as a tie vote," inferring that the Legislature ought to await Wylie's arrival.

Sen. Michael Russillo of Omaha strenuously objected.

But his motion to "raise the call" failed on an 18-19 count. The call was finally raised on an 18-16 vote upon motion by Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha.

Brief Debate

In a brief debate on Morrison's veto, Carpenter charged that the governor was a victim of "the greatest sucker political play . . . and the sad thing is he fell for it."

Noting that Morrison had stated that his action was not politically motivated, Carpenter declared that "the only reason he vetoed the bill was of complete political significance."

Carpenter said his remarks were not tainted by partisan politics: "I will never again be a candidate for any statewide office. I wouldn't accept the governorship if this body could give it to me, and I'm sure you wouldn't."

Brief debate on the issue merely reiterated previous arguments.

Vote on the motion to override:

For: Adamson, Bowen, Brandt, Bridenbaugh, Carpenter (changed to against), Craft, Damrow, Erlewine, Fleming, Forrester, Foster, Gerdes, Gerhart, Hasebroock, Kremer, Lysinger, Marvel, Nelson, Orme, E. Rasmussen, Ruhnke, Stryker, Thompson, Warner.

Against: Bahensky, Burbach, Claussen, Danner, Kjar, Klaver, Mahoney, Moulton, Payne, Gottschalk, R. Rasmussen, Reeves, Russillo, Skarda, Stalder, Syas.

Not Voting: McGinley, Stromer, Wylie.

Water Problems Measures Approved By State Senators

Two bills growing out of a Legislative Council interim study of water problems were approved on final reading in the State Legislature Thursday.

One of the bills, LB95, eliminates a loophole in law by which some holders of water appropriations were escaping forfeiture of their water rights for non-use of the rights.

LB95 makes clear that a water appropriation becomes subject to forfeiture if not used for more than three years before the notice of forfeiture hearing is received.

A companion bill, LB96, provides for state regulation over the taking of water from drainage ditches and other man-made streams as it regulates water taking from natural streams, and authorizes the Department of Water Resources to adjudicate disputed claims to water rights.

The two bills were principally introduced by Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City, chairman of the study committee, and were signed by committee colleagues, Sens. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, George Syas of Omaha, Don Thompson of McCook, Peter Claussen of Leigh, Eugene Mahoney of Omaha and Albert Kjar of Lexington.

LB95 was approved on a 40-0 vote; LB96 on a 37-0 vote.

Other bills passed Thursday (E-emergency clause):

LB359 (Gerdes) — Requiring an annual report to the state engineer listing in detail the miles of rural mail routes in a county and the improvements made on them. (35-0)

LB467 (Moulton) — Providing for the appointment of an advisory committee on zoning in Douglas County, to advise the Planning Commission and Omaha City Council. (35-0)

LB361 (Kjar, Gottschalk, Stalder) — Authorizing persons not resident of a city to be hired for Civil Service positions in any city covered by Civil Service Law. (E). (38-0)

LB38 (Adamson, Ruhnke, Hasebroock) —Requiring annual driver license and physical examinations for school bus driver. (E). (39-1).

Legislature To Ponder Meat Price Resolution

The Unicameral Monday will consider a resolution resulting from a proposed livestock price study.

The Legislature's Agriculture Committee has unanimously voted against a study of the relation between livestock and retail meat prices.

The study was suggested by State Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan. He said the decline in cattle and pork prices has not been reflected in the butcher shop cost of meat.

Sen. Frank Nelson of O'Neill said Thursday the committee voted against the resolution after receiving an attorney general's opinion that no study could be conducted by the Legislature under its rules without some specific legislation in mind.

But the committee submitted a resolution asking the Nebraska congressional delegation to consider the need of legislation which would more closely regulate imports of meat products and to consider the possibility of flexible quotas of imports to balance needs in relation to U. S. domestic production.

Urge Cozad Training School Be Retained

The Governor's Inter-Agency Committee for the Retarded reported Thursday it has recommended continuation of the Cozad training School for the Mentally Retarded in its present status for another two years.

George Morris, state institutions director, headed a subcommittee which studied the Cozad school problem.

The subcommittee recommended:

1. A complete study of the number of trainable mentally retarded children of school age in Nebraska to determine where boarding schools might be better than programs in public school systems.

2. Consider sites for any additional schools in conformance with the number of trainable children in a given area.

3. Boarding school facilities such as these at Cozad should be established only where population makes a public school program uneconomical and ineffective.

4. Training programs in heavily populated eastern Nebraska should be the responsibility and function of public schools, with the state financing costs above normal education.

5. Boarding school facilities should be located on basis of needs in a given area.

Finigan: 'No Conflict' In Langenheim Activities

...Part-Time Ag Department Employee's Firm General Counsel For State Contract Holder

State Director of Agriculture Pearle Finigan said Thursday he sees no conflict of interest in the fact that a part-time Agriculture Department employee is part of a law firm which also represents the firm which is doing research for the department under contract.

Roger Langenheim, who drew more than $5,000 in 1962 for work as research program coordinator for the state department, is a member of the firm of Stinson, Mac, Thomson, McEvers and Fizzell of Kansas City, Mo.

The law firm also is general counsel for Midwest Research Institute of Kansas City, recipient of more than $400,000 from 15 agricultural research contracts since May of 1960. The firm has received more than any other agency contracting for research for the state of Nebraska.

Langenheim also has, as a member of the law firm, lobbied in the Nebraska Legislature on behalf of Seabord Cattle Co., a firm that has come under fire from farm organizations because it plans to start a 10,000-head cattle feeding program on State Aeronautics Department land at the Bruning Air Base.

Finigan, who had said he was aware of the lobbying activity, said Thursday he had Langenheim's firm was also counsel for Midwest Research, but added that the institute is a non-profit organization and any surplus funds are used for humanitarian research.

Furthermore, said Finigan, most of the contracts with the firm were signed before Langenheim was associated with the law firm which represents Midwest.

"As far as our part-time employees working for other clients, we don't give a damn who they are as long as there is no violation of confidences," Finigan said.

"If anyone is critical of a state employee lobbying they will probably find some others working in other departments that are doing the same thing," he added.

Solons To Tour Disaster Center

Members of the Legislature will tour the state's new emergency operating center here Friday, according to the state Civil Defense director, Maj. Gen. Lyle A. Welch.

The facility will provide the emergency seat of government for the state of Nebraska. It is a center where the essential elements of state government will be able to conduct their respective governmental functions in any kind of emergency, either natural or war-caused.

Bowlins Lucky; Neighbors Not

By HAMILTON GREGORY

Jasper, Tenn. (AP) — The Charles Bowlins were the lucky ones. Their brick home perches on high grounds. Around them, the little Sequatchie River swirled away their neighbors homes.

The George Dixons drowned.

"I heard a terrific rumble," Bowlin said Thursday. "I ran out into the front yard and the water came up to my waist."

The rumble was the raging river rolling through the narrow Sequachie Cove community — like a bowling ball using trees, barns, outbuildings and homes for tenpins. The flood smacked the Dixon home, lifted it completely away and carried it down the cove.

"We knew what was happening, because we could hear the Dixons' screaming as the house floated by," Rowland said.

"Oh, law, they were screaming, screaming, screaming," moaned Bowlin's young daughter with a shudder. "I was scared and wanted to climb up the rafters."

The Dixons had been warned — but for some reason, stayed in their house.

As rain and hail beat down hard and fast in Sequatchie Cove early Tuesday morning, U. C. Puryear, another neighbor, began to worry. Driving his pickup truck to the main portion of the creek, "I realized something was wrong," Puryear said.

"The creek was flooding its banks and I could hear a big roar up in the mountains at the head of the cove. I knew a big flood was coming."

On the way home, Puryear decided to stop by the home of his old friend, George Dixon, asleep with his wife and two of his 6 children. The other 4 children, for one reason or another, were spending the night elsewhere.

"George, there's a flood coming!" exclaimed Puryear. "You've got only 15 minutes to get out."

"Okay," mumbled Dixon, half-asleep. That may have been his last word, for Bowlin watched the family and its home wash away a few minutes later.

Dixon, 50; his wife, Mary Lou, 40, and their sons, Harold Dee, 12 and Paul Michael, 8, were found some two miles downstream — nearly 24 hours later.

In the road below the Bowlin home, the water was high — too high for Charles Chambers, who clawed his way up a tall tree where he spent the night.

Next morning, Army amphibious vehicles from Tullahoma took the Bowlins from their flooded home.

Across the way, they could see the Dixons' shattered dwelling.

One wood wall was wrapped around a tree. A red curtain flapped on a limb. A little girls' patent leather shoe was stuck in the mud.

The Dixons were the only persons killed in sparsley populated Sequatchie Cove.

But in this same area more than 50 houses were demolished by the raging waters; more than 200 persons were evacuated.

Out of it, though, may have come that spirit of human good will which common disaster alone seems able to bring.

Not a single public shelter has been set up.

All the homeless have found homes — with friends, relatives or the warm at heart.

All but the George Dixons.

LOST HALF HER WEIGHT

Frances Jean Carr, 18, down to 78 pounds from her regular 136, smiles from her hospital bed in Warren, Ohio. Doctors say she suffered malnutrition and will lose her toes from frostbite. Her sister, Mrs. Donna Ainsley, is at left. Frances' aunt and father are charged with cruel and inhuman treatment for keeping her in an unheated shed since last October.

Adenauer To Quit As Head Of Party When He Retires

Bonn, Germany (AP)— Konrad Adenauer will quit as leader of the Christian Democratic Party when he retires as chancellor next fall, the party's executive chairman said Thursday.

Josef Hermann Dufhues, ranking party executive after Adenauer, told a news conference the 87-year-old chancellor will not take any position in the new government.

Adenauer has never said that he would give up the chairmanship of the party, which he has held throughout his 13 years as chancellor. Nor has he ever said in public that he would stay out of his successor's government.

Dufhues held his news conference after a closed meeting of Christian Democratic leaders which Adenauer attended. He told reporters the chancellor will retire "with great inner satisfaction" and will observe the activities of the new government "with tranquillity," not interfering in any way.

The chancellor himself had no comment for reporters after the meeting.

FRENCH RAILMEN CALL STRIKE

Paris (AP) — French railroad unions Thursday called a 24-hour nationwide strike as optimism spread among coal miners that they are winning their 14-day strike for better wages and hours.

The rail unions scheduled the strike to begin at 3 a.m. Friday. Trains en route at the deadline were instructed to continue to the next station and then halt. The railroad strike was called by the same basic union organizations which represent the striking coal and iron miners.

In the Paris region, it will tie up the capital's many commuter services. Whether it will also affect subway lines within the city was not clear.

The announcement came as President De Gaulle was apparently preparing to grant at least part of the demands of the striking coal miners.

Trivial Thing May Turn 'Sane' Into Murderers

Chicago (AP)—Three psychiatrists—hunting for a clue that will pinpoint a potential murderer before he commits the act—said Thursday that a trivial provocation sometimes turns an apparently well adjusted person into a vicious killer.

The psychiatrists studied 43 cases in which men who were living appafently satisfactory lives suddenly and unexpectedly committed murder, allowed themselves to be apprehended, readily confessed their guilt and then appeared unconcerned or even righteous.

In one case, a man who had never shown any evidence of being violent suddenly mutilated and killed his wife because she threatened to leave him.

Kills Waitresses

A mild-mannered man who was raised in a strict religious home shot two waitresses to death in a tavern because they reneged on their "promise" to put him in contact with the underworld.

A laborer who was doing an effective job beat his employer to death with a metal club during an argument over his weekly salary.

The study, entitled, "The Sudden Murderer," was reported by Drs. Nathan Blackman, St. Louis; James M. A. Weiss, Columbia, Mo., and Joseph W. Lamberti, Winnipeg, Man., in the current Archives of General Psychiatry, published by the American Medical Association.

Characteristically, they said, the sudden murderer was a man who came from a close knit family in which the mother was domineering, overprotective figure who emphasized conformity to the rules of the social system.

Blame Others

"Failing in his attempt to conform because of underlying feelings of inadequacy and hostility, the murderer-to-be tended to blame other people, and to wander from place to place looking for greater opportunities," they said. "As a result, he felt quite consciously alone and isolated from other people."

Surprisingly, they added when such a person seemed to be getting along quite well, when society apparently expected him to be even more conforming and mature, and when he had no one to blame, he would become more tense and angry.

"At such a time, even a slight provocation would set off the violent surge of rage which resulted in murder," they said.

Constant Conflict

The psychiatrists said that in the majority of the cases in their study, the killer suffered from constant conflict between inner feelings of inadequacy and conscious needs to succeed, between an inner sense of psychological isolatedness and an outward drive toward conformity.

They added that many persons with similar behavioral patterns never become killers and that it may be because of some intervening socializing factor such as satisfactory interpersonal experience with church groups, Scout activities, employer, friend or even spouse.

Russia, U.S. Both Gain In Popularity

Washington (AP) — Striking gains in both pro-American and pro-Russian sentiment in Western Europe, with the United States still well ahead in popular opinion, were reported Thursday in a new U.S. information agency poll.

The agency said preliminary returns on the poll showed that the popularity of U.S. foreign policy now stands at the highest point registered on an index dating back to 1956.

The poll, dated last month, covered Britain, West Germany, France and Italy.

Confidential

The results, still marked confidential, were obtained by the Associated Press from a source who asked not to be named.

USIA said last month it would not make its opinion surveys public until they are one or two years old. The reason, it said, is to avoid damaging U.S. foreign relations by publicizing current studies.

William B. Sprague, publicity director of the Republican National Committee, issued a statement decrying what he called "the obviously intentional leak to selected correspondents" of the poll. He said it was "a transparent effort to distract public attention from critical national problems which remain unsolved."

"It is Kennedy news management in its purest form," he said.

Cavalier

Whatever U.S. popularity ratings among rank and file Europeans, Sprague said, "our relations with the leaders of important Allied nations have never been worse. This deterioration is due to lack of leadership on the part of the U.S. government and cavalier treatment of friends in key positions abroad."

The survey said:

"The marked gains in pro-U.S. sentiment in the latest surveys in Western Europe appear to be paralleled by no less striking gains in pro-Soviet sentiment . . .

"The Soviet gains are most apparent . . . in the current extent of approval of recent Soviet policies. There is also very substantial improvement in the Soviet peace image, and some increase, except in West Germany, in the general level of esteem for the Soviet Union."

Avoidance

The report said the recent rise in pro-Russian sentiment was due to "the avoidance of war over Cuba—which many in Europe attribute more to Soviet moderation than to U.S. strength."

Confidence in U.S. leadership for the West showed record gains in Britain and West Germany, but slipped some in France, where President Charles de Gaulle is "so dramatically at odds" with President Kennedy, the report said.

Nevertheless, it added, the French people continue to hold the United States in high esteem.

The poll gave "net favorable" percentages of opinion toward U.S. foreign policy, by subtracting unfavorable from favorable responses among the people questioned.

Jury Indicts 3 Men For Mail Order Land Sales

Phoenix, (AP) — Three Miami, Fla., men were indicted by a federal grand jury Thursday in the mail order sale of Arizona land.

Charged with mail fraud were Dory Auerbach, David Prosser Randell and Irving Gottlieb, all officers of Lake Mead Rancheros Inc., which has offices in Miami and Hollywood, Fla.

The 22-count indictment returned in Phoenix charged the men with describing desert range land in northwestern Arizona as livable now, implying that drinking water, power lines and telephone lines existed on the property.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy described most of the land as totally undeveloped and 45 miles from Lake Mead on the Colorado River.

Each count charged the defendants with causing a different mailing of money to two Arizona addresses. The indictment said the use of Arizona addresses, both in Kingman, was part of a scheme to defraud, leading customers to believe they were dealing with an Arizona company operating near the property.

The indictment said the mail received in Kingman was forwarded unopened to the defendants' offices in Florida.

The indictments came after a 3-day session of the grand jury under Carl Muecke (Mickey), U. S. Attorney for Arizona.

Kennedy said the indictment was the first following what he described as a broad scale investigation by the Justice Department of mail-order real estate operations.

Results of other investigations now are being checked by the Justice Department or reviewed by grand juries, Kennedy said.

Pointing to a growth in mail order land sales during the past two years, the attorney general said "thousands of persons, particularly aging couples looking forward to retirement, have been taken in by unscrupulous promoters."

Woman Handed Year For Fraudulent Check

Lancaster District Judge Herbert Ronin Thursday sentenced a Lincoln woman to one year in the Women's Reformatory at York on a fraudulent check charge.

Ruth Woessner of 817 West P had pleaded guilty Feb. 18 to issuing a $98.24 insufficient-fund check Dec. 17, 1962.

Junkman Finds, Loses Fortune

. . . BANDITS GRAB FUNDS

St. Louis, (AP) — Thomas Pogue, a junk dealer found $21,900 in a box of trash Sunday, then lost it Wednesday night to two armed bandits who held him up in his home.

Pogue's son-in-law, Frank DeManule, 27, dashed out the door with a 16 gauge shotgun after the robbery and fired at two teenage boys he thought were the bandits, police said. Robert Lawrence, 16, was wounded in the arms, legs and back.

Neither Lawrence nor his companion, William Doll, 17, took part in the robbery, Patrolman Chester Balz said.

Detective Harold Crafton said the money belonged to Joseph Kelley, 82, a retired businessman, who "didn't believe in banks." He gave this account:

Poague and his wife found the money in trash they collected at a house Kelley moved from a week ago. Kelley's son, Jay, gave Pogue what he thought were only 3 boxes of trash.

"They contained trash alright," Crafton said, "trash and 219 beautiful green hundred dollar bills."

Not Ransom

Police first thought the money might have been connected with the Bobby Greenlease kndnapping case. One of the 6-year-old boy's kidnap-killers, Bonny Brown Heady, was arrested 6 blocks from where the money was found. A check disclosed, though, that the Greenlease ransom money was in 10 and 20 dollar bills.

Pogue told Crafton and Balz that two men armed with luger pistols walked into his house, ordered Pogue, his wife, DeManule and Pogue's daughter into the living room.

One of the bandits wore a stocking mask. The other's face was blackened with shoe polish or burnt cork. One man walked into the bedroom, got the money and he and his friend walked out the door.

Balz said Pogue had told several friends he had the money.

Pogue said the bandits called him Tom, but he did not recognize them.

Doll and Lawrence, the two teenagers, told Patrolman Balz they saw 3 men get into a car in front of Pogue's home and drive away shortly after the robbery.

The officers asked Pogue what he would have done with the money if it had not been stolen.

"I don't know," Balz told the policemen. "I just don't know."

'Britain Has To Maintain N-Defenses'

London, (AP) — Britain must maintain its nuclear deterrent or give up as a world power, Foreign Secretary Lord Home told the House of Lords Thursday night.

The House then approved the government's defense policy — to cost a record sum of nearly $5.6 billion — without a vote after defeating an opposition censure motion 77-45.

"It is assumed," Home said, "that the United States would always, in all circumstances, cover Britain with her strategic deterrent. I profoundly hope that is true.

"But it is a large assumption and government cannot take risks with the national security. I beg the opposition to remember that if Britain is to scrap her deterrent, we shall be out of the business for good and can never regain the lost ground.

"A decision to abandon the independent use of a British deterrent, once taken, is irrevocable and lost for ever."

He added: "If we have not the will to defend our country with the most modern weapons we ought not to claim to be a great power."

Putting the cost at about 7% of Britain's gross national product, the foreign secretary said "if we are claiming to be a first-class power we ought to be ready, perhaps, to pay a bit more than that."

Woman Shoots Self Near Heart

Police Thursday said Betty J. Barnhart, 33, of 4021 No. 13th, died of a bullet wound near the heart.

Deputy Sheriffs Paul Nowakowski and Norman Monroe, acting coroners, ruled the death self-inflicted.

Police found her body on the floor partially covering a small-bore pistol. Her husband told police he heard a gunshot after he went to bed.

NU'S NUCLEAR RESEARCH LAB

This architectural sketch shows the proposed $1.25 million Behlen Laboratory for Research to be built west of the University of Nebraska's present Brace Laboratory for Physics. Financing will come from a gift from the Behlen family of Columbus, a $600,000 National Science Foundation grant and NU's $250,000 share of the state building levy. To be built near 10th and S, the 3-story structure—plus basement and underground laboratory space—will facilitate NU's doing highly specialized nuclear physics research.

Bill Davidson Enters Race For Council

W. H. (Bill) Davidson of 2101 So. 48th filed Wednesday as a candidate for City Council.

Davidson, 50, owns a Lincoln insurance agency and has served on several governmental committees.

"Like a great number of my fellow citizens," Davidson said in filing, "I have become perturbed by the procrastination and indecision of our City Council.

"It is my belief that we have come to a time for positive action on these vital issues facing the council and the city."

'Action' Promised

If elected, he promised "definite action" on (1) city-county building, (2) Consumers Public Power District question, (3) liquor by the drink and (4) an equitable, one-day-per-week closing law.

Davidson said if Lincoln is to have "real progress, we cannot sweep our problems under the rug. They must be met squarely and solved in the best interest of the people."

A native of Lincoln, Davidson attended the University of Nebraska, is married and has two children, and is a member of the American Legion, Chamber of Commerce, and Elks.

An apparent low bid of $76,360 for construction of a 16-inch water feeder main in Leighton from 63rd to 70th and 70th from Walker to Aylesworth was opened at City Hall.

City officials said the Dobson Bros. Construction Co. bid was $76,360 as compared with N. L. Cole Construction Co., $82,700; H. R. Bookstrom Construction Co., $84,430, and Chambers Construction Co, $87,190.

All bids were taken under study by the Public Works Department with a recommendation to be forwarded Monday to the City Council.

IDEA OFFERED ON HANDLING KNOTTY CITY POWER PROBLEM

Representatives of public power agencies have offered their proposal for handling a knotty problem of electric service in the zoning areas outside the borders of municipalities, Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, chairman of the Legislature's Public Works Committee, reported Thursday.

The power representatives had been invited to come up with an acceptable version of a section of a pending power bill, LB220, validiting retail service area agreements and creating a state power review board.

Meeting Wednesday were Frank E. Phelps of Grand Island, Vern Livingston of Nebraska City, City Attorney Ralph Nelson of Lincoln, Richard Wilson of Consumers Public Power District, Joe T. Vosoba representing Norris Public Power District, Elbert H. Smith of the Dawson County Public Power District, and Lloyd J. Marti representing the Eastern Nebraska Public Power District.

The representatives proposed this section in LB220:

"In the zoning area surrounding any municipality and outside the corporate limits thereof, the supplier which serves the municipality at retail shall have the right to serve the said zoning area at retail except as to such customers as are presently served by other suppliers. The retail supplier of the municipality may acquire the facilities of other suppliers in said zoning area by negotiation.

"In determining the service area of a municipality, there shall be included not more than the corporate area of the municipality, the zoning area of such municipality, and the area beyond the zoning area which is presently being served by such municipality, including not more than the area one-half mile on each side of the lines presently used by said municipality to serve its existing customers, except for customers presently served by other suppliers."

In a statement to Ruhnke, the group said that its proposed version of the bill would "maintain the status quo as to customers presently being served but would certainly tend to prevent further duplication of services and facilities in the future."

The bill "would definitely encourage all public power agencies to enter into voluntary agreements," they noted.

Ruhnke said he will recommend that the Public Works Committee accept the suggested amendment.

Suburbia Always Has Heyday

PARK VALLEY HEIGHTS

The whistle blows, they're up for the tip off, and it's time for the annual State Basketball Tournament! It's that time of the year again when thousands of high school students from across the state are invading the Capital City and turning the whole town into one big playground for their one big recess of the year.

High school students, basketball players, and coaches are having a heyday, and not to be outdone, Suburbanites, too, are following their example and keeping Suburbia just as busy as downtown Lincoln's sidewalks.

It seemed to be birthday time in Park Valley this week, for we know of three that were celebrated on Thursday morning at the Glen Herbert home.

Mrs. Herbert was a coffee hostess that morning for the three birthday girls in the neighborhood, Mrs. Jack Herbert, Mrs. Jack Speck, and Mrs. Robert Gould. Honoring the special guests were 12 neighbors and their little ones.

Visitors in Park Valley this week are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith of Lamont, Iowa, who are spending several days with their son and his family, Capt. and Mrs. Dean Smith and Bret, Kurt, and Nile.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith arrived in Lincoln and Park Valley on Thursday, and will be here until the latter part of next week.

More out-of-town visitors in the neighborhood who will be returning to their home in Marysville, Mo., tomorrow are Mr. Herman Wilmes and his grandson, David Wilmes, the son of Mr. Clyde Wilmes, also of Marysville. Mr. and Master Wilmes have been visiting Mr. Wilmes son-in-law and daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James D. Linneman and Marilyn, Jimmie, Connie, and Rita.

The Missouri residents arrived in Lincoln last Saturday.

SKYLINE TERRACE

St. Patrick's Day is cause for another scheduled party this weekend, and this one is to be at the Skyline Terrace home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Reynolds. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds will be entertaining several neighbors tomorrow evening at a bridge party followed with, what we imagine will be a very "Irish-type," dessert.

Their guests for the evening are to be Capt. and Mrs. Jack Katz, Capt. and Mrs. William Dix, Maj. and Mrs. Don Davis, Capt. and Mrs. Ray Narushko, Miss Jean Montgomery, and John Montgomery.

MAPLE VILLAGE

A birthday to be celebrated in Maple Village this weekend is that of Master Michael Lorenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Junior R. Lorenson.

Michael, whose birthday is March 18, will be celebrating tomorrow with 13 of his Maple Village friends.

BETHANY PARK TERRACE

Busy people in Bethany Park Terrace this week have been Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hall, for they have entertained Lincoln visitors, Lincoln friends, and more visitors.

Their houseguests at the beginning of the week were Mrs. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Vandeventer, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, who spent Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday with their son-in-law and daughter and grandchildren, Marcia, Jeff, Kathy, and David.

Guests to be entertained this evening are the 30 members of Mr. and Mrs. Hall's adult Sunday School class from the East Lincoln Christian Church.

And spending this weekend with the Hall family is Mr. Hall's mother, Mrs. Erna Hall, who also is a Council Bluffs resident. Mrs. Hall came to Lincoln today after only a very brief stopover in Council Bluffs, for she has just recently returned to her home after spending three months with her son-in-law and daughter, the Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Westmoreland, in Leaksville, N.C.

Talk

We learned this morning that Lincoln will be bidding farewell to one of its popular families before too many weeks have elapsed. Mr. and Mrs. John Boman (Jeanne Branch) and their four daughters, Jeanne, Kim, Deborah and Joni Jo, are to become residents of Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. Boman already is in Indianapolis, having left immediately following his transfer there, and Mrs. Boman and their daughters will join him later this spring.

One might suspect that the basketball tournament would put an end to any other activity around town—but such is not the case.

The Revelers Club, for instance, has chosen Saturday night for a very festive party—an old-fashioned "schnitzelbaum" affair for which invitations were written in German.

Planning this gay evening is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Don Dixon, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sands, Dr. and Mrs. George Place, Mr. and Mrs. James Carrier, Mr. and Mrs. William Edgecomb and Mr. and Mrs. George Joy.

* * *

Back home again are Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Finney who have returned from Chicago where Dr. Finney attended the American Medical Association meetings.

And just prior to the Chicago trip Dr. and Mrs. Finney had house guests—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Upton of Palo Alto, Calif., who spent a long weekend in Lincoln.

Women Voters Elect Officers

The League of Women Voters of Lincoln elected Mrs. Wallace C. Peterson president at its annual business meeting, held Thursday afternoon.

Officers and members of the board of directors named were (in front, from the left) Mrs. Hamlin Graham and Mrs. LaVell K. Swarts, board; Mrs. Peterson; Mrs. Walter G. Elwell, secretary; and Mrs. J. M. Daly, who cotninues as second vice president. At back are Mrs. D. H. Pinkerton, first vice president; Mrs. James Arnot and Mrs. John Millet, board; and Mrs. Joseph Soshnik, who will continue as treasurer.

The league also voted to continue its study of Lincoln city planning with emphasis on traffic end zoning, and to continue its support of a city-county building, of park and recreational facilities, and of the full-time mayor plan.

Wins Annual Award

Mrs. Dale LeBaron (right) was honored by the Lincoln Mrs. JayCees as the "Woman of the Year" on Wednesday evening, when she was presented the award by Mrs. Robert Becker (left), president of the organization.

Also the recipient recently of the annual "Good Neighbor" award, Mrs. LeBaron was responsible for the Mrs. JayCees adoption of aid to foster children as a statewide project. She and her husband have served as "parents" to 11 foster children, three of whom they have adopted.

Alumnae Officers

The alumnae of Kappa Kappa Gamma elected Mrs. Keith Moseman president of the group at the monthly meeting Wednesday evening, held at the home of Mrs. Robert Hillyer.

Other officers named were Mrs. J. G. Desmond, Jr., vice president; Mrs. Ron Krafka, secretary; and Mrs. Sam Van Pelt, treasurer.

Guests of the club were Dean and Mrs. Robert Ross.

Dear Abby

You Would Be A Heel Not To Tell Her

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Don't tell me I'm a heel—I know it. I asked a girl to marry me and she said yes, and now I want out. I'm no kid, Abby, (almost 40) and should have known better, but I got involved and spoke too soon. I even gave her a ring, which she can keep. How do I break this engagement with the least amount of humiliation for her? She's making plans. There isn't anyone else. I just do not want to marry this girl.

HEEL

DEAR HEEL: Tell her IMMEDIATELY that you have changed your mind and do not want to settle down yet. She'll think you are cruel, inhuman, inconsiderate, immature, impulsive, and a dozen other things I can't mention here—but you'll be off the hook. It would be generous of you to allow her to tell her friends that SHE broke it off.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: With reference to that 28-year-old unmarried man who refused to be best man for his brother if the bride had her eight-months pregnant sister stand up for her: We took a poll at the office and the sister was way out in front.

The Gang At Ed Phillips & Sons

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A boy called me last night and I wasn't home so he left his telephone number and asked my mother if she'd have me call him back. My mother gave me the message and just as I started to call him my father said it was not proper for a girl to call a boy, and if he wanted me bad enough he'd call again. Was my father right? It so happened that the boy DID call me back later, but I want to know if there is anything wrong with calling a boy back if he calls you first and leaves his number.

SENIOR

DEAR SENIOR: There is nothing improper about a girl returning a boy's call. It makes more sense than the boy calling her home every 20 minutes and asking, "Is Judy home yet?"

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Do a couple of million people a favor and ask them to get into their cars on a dark, rainy night and drive by their OWN homes to see if they can read their own house numbers. You wouldn't believe the number of houses that haven't a clue (that can be seen from the street) as to what the house number is.

CLAIRE

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am 24, have never been married and plan to marry a man who has been married twice before. My friends tell me that because my future husband has been married before it would not be proper to have a big church wedding with the wedding gown and long veil. Is this true? My fiance says it doesn't matter how many times HE has been married. Please straighten this out so I can plan my wedding.

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: Your fiance is right. If you want a large church wedding with the gown and veil, go ahead and have one.

Why Grow Old?

Questions And Answers

Josephine Lowman

A good way to build up those thighs for bathing suit weather ahead is daily exercise. This one uses two weights, such as books.

Q. "Could you possibly print an exercise in your column which will develop my thighs to make them larger? I have such skinny legs it isn't funny. Also, is it true that exercises can make you taller?"

A. Here are two exercises which will help you. Of course, if you are underweight a gain in poundage would also be helpful.

1. Sit on the floor with your legs straight. Place a weight at the outside of each foot. This can be a book. Lean back on your hands. Now, separate your legs pushing the books along the floor. Return to starting position and continue.

2. Deep knee bends firm and develop the legs. This simply means bending the knees all the way down. Be sure to keep your back erect while you do the bends. If you cannot keep your balance while keeping your back straight, place one hand on the top of a low-backed chair or on the wall.

The only way exercise can make you taller is to make your spine straighter and therefore longer. Some stretching exercises are supposed to do this. Actually, you can add a couple of inches to your height by improving your posture if it is not good. When you slump, you take inches from your height and from the apparent size of your bustline.

One reason very tall women often have poor posture—they slump in the unconscious wish to look shorter. This is such a mistake because a tall girl or woman who has beautiful carriage is always a knockout!

Q. "Is there an exercise to fill out the face? I have a very thin face, and no makeup seems to cling to my nose."

A. The best way to make the face larger is to gain weight. However, I judge that you do not need to gain all over.

Use one of the liquid powders or cake make-up to create an illusion of a fuller face. A product for covering birthmarks may be helpful.

Facial exercise will help firm and fill out facial contours, but they will not make a very thin face look full.

If you would like to have my directions for facial exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 9 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Neb.

Q. "Is it true that I should cut my toenails straight across the top? I think they look better rounded like my fingernails."

A. It is best to cut them straight across the top. Otherwise, you may suffer from ingrown toenails.

Time To Test Your Bidding

QUIZ

You have the following hand, both sides vulnerable:

♠AKJ3 ♥KJ852 ♦7 ♣AQ4

1. You are the dealer. What do you bid?

2. Your right-hand opponent opens with One Diamond, which you double, and your left-hand opponent bids Three Diamonds, which is followed by two passes. What would you bid now?

3. You deal and bid One Heart and partner respond One Spade. What would you bid now?

4. You deal and bid One Heart and partner responds Two Clubs. When you then bid Two Spades, partner responds Three Daimonds. What would you bid now?

5. Your right-hand opponent opens the bidding with Three Diamonds, which you double. Your partner responds Three Notrump. What would you bid now?

Here are the answers:

1. One heart. This is a suit type of hand and the first aim is therefore to find the longest trump suit. The intention is to name spades next and partner will then know that the hearts are longer than the spades, since they were bid first. In choosing the opening bid, length of suit generally takes precedence over strength of suit.

2. Double. This is still a takeout double, even though partner had the opportunity to bid and didn't. The hand is much too good to give up without a fight, since we have considerably more values than were shown by the first double. It is better to ask partner to choose the suit by doubling again than it is to blindly bid three hearts or spades in the hope of finding trump support. Furthermore, there is a chance that clubs will turn out to be the best suit.

3. Four spades. This is by no means a closeout bid. The jump to four spades tells partner that even though his spade response may consist of only 6 points a game in spades is highly probable. By inference, therefore, the jump shows 20 or more points, distributional or otherwise, and hence constitutes an indirect slam try.

4. Five clubs. Having indicated five hearts and four spades already, we want to show the excellent club support by jumping to five. It would be wrong to bid three notrump. That bid would be correct if the queen of clubs were the queen of diamonds, but this one-card change is probably the difference between making a slam and just a game.

5. Pass. You have to accept partner's judgement that notrump is the best spot. He knows you were angling for a suit when you doubled, and it would be wrong to start groping now for a better place to play the hand.

Income Tax Witnesses Produce Wordy Flood

Forty-three witnesses buried the Legislature's Revenue Committee in a flood of words Thursday as the committee gave a hearing to a proposed state income tax.

Sixteen persons, nearly all representing farm organizations, spoke in behalf of the bill. Twenty-seven witnesses —most representing business, industry and labor — voiced opposition.

Capsule comments from some of the speakers who supported LB612:

Sen. Kenneth Bowen, Red Cloud: "Every citizen receives many benefits from state government, and should pay some portion of the cost of those services. The low, flat rate will not create a hardship for anyone."

Sen. Lloyd Stalder, Humboldt: "We need relief from property taxes for we have turned our pockets inside out. A millionaire can avoid taxes in Nebraska. We are taxing agriculture to death."

Keith Knudsen, Lincoln Chamber of Commerce: "The present system is inequitable. But the income tax should have with-holding provisions. It would be unfair to ask a lump sum."

Roland Nelson, Mead, Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation: "Agriculture is and has been discriminated against in taxation."

H. C. Filley, Lincoln, State Grange: "Farmers make up 22% of the population, receive 13% of the income and pay 51% of the tax. Thirty-four states have an income tax."

Clayton Yeutter, Eustis: "Don't kill the bill — ferret out the objections contained in your mail. Do not pit farmers against urban dwellers or the state won't have much to celebrate during its centennial in 1967."

James Dickenson, Douglas County: "The biggest single deterrent to school reorganization is our tax structure."

Opponents Speak

Opposition to the bill:

Sen. Michael Russillo. Omaha: "It does not relieve the heaviest burden, that is local property taxes. It would remove the brakes from unwarranted state spending and mostly hurt those in low income brackets."

Lester Anderson, Lincoln: "You don't relieve a tax situation with new taxes. This is one of the worst, most deceiving. most discriminating bills ever introduced in the Legislature."

Sen. Sam Klaver, Omaha: "Once you try it out, there's no going back. This is a back door to the sales tax. It is the big stores in Lincoln which will benefit, not the farmers."

Lure Industry

Wray Scott, Omaha, Association of Nebraska Taxpayers: "Our conservative approach to taxation is a lure to industry. This Legislature could lower the mill levy with equalized assessment."

Owen Cotton, Omaha: "Farm and ranch income is actually about 40% of the state total. Without with-holding, the income tax would be a failure at the start."

Richard Nisley, Omaha, State AFL-CIO: "Any enterprise could avoid this tax by incorporating."

L. K. Emry, Lincoln, Railroad Shop Crafts: "We respectfully submit that LB-612 will be of little help to small family type farmers; the little merchants on main streets of Nebraska towns and villages, or to farm workers."

Morrison To Ink Income Tax Bill If It Is Passed

Gov. Frank Morrison Thursday said he will sign the proposed state income tax bill if it passes the Legislature.

To do otherwise, he said, would be "an administrative invasion of the legislative function of government."

Twenty-two votes are required for the measure, LB-612, to pass the Legislature. Twenty-six would be needed to override a gubernatorial veto.

Castro Brewing Strong 'Alliance For Violence'

Washington (AP)—An "alliance for violence" is brewing in Fidel Castro's Cuba to send "agents trained in sabotage, espionage and revolutionary techniques throughout Latin America," a House subcommittee reported Thursday.

It said the Soviet Union must be held accountable for what it called a program of "subversive aggression" against the free world nations, going far beyond what is normally called a subversive activity.

And it described the campaign as "paramilitary," concluding from that finding that economic aid alone cannot cope with it.

"In fact the success of the Alliance for Progress or any other long-range economic aid program for the region is dependent on reducing and finally eliminating the threat of subversive aggression to the hemisphere," the subcommittee said.

The report, issued by the Inter-American Affairs Subcommittee headed by Rep. Armistead Selden, D-Ala., after weeks of hearing top intelligence experts and Cuban exiles, called for quick development of collective security measures against the new form of aggression. It said the American republics have been slow in that area.

And as one measure of defense it urged that the United States "seek the complete diplomatic and economic quarantine of Communist Cuba by other nations of the Americas.

Relations

Five Latin American countries still maintain diplomatic relations with Cuba. One of these, Mexico, "remains a "neutral ground' . . . for Castro Communist traffic and travel in the Americas," the report said.

Apart from the committee report, Rep. William C. Cramer, D-Fla., went into that subject with a charge that the Cuban Embassy in Mexico "is the open door through which Communist subversives throughout the Americas" enter Cuba and return home "for purposes of subversion and sabotage."

Dairy Council Picks Liebers

Lawrence Liebers of Lincoln, secretary-treasurer of Skyline Dairy Co., was elected president of the Dairy Council of Lincoln

Mrs. Mary Anne Guggenmos, executive director of the Council, reported that 120,960 pieces of educational material had been distributed during the past year to promote good nutritional practices in the use of dairy products.

Other council activity included 514 film showings, 416 exhibits and displays and assistance for 128 classrooms and 104 meetings.

Norman Myrick, director of public relations for the Milk Industry Foundation, told council members that the alarm over radioactive fallout in milk was no longer a problem and that actually the fallout scare never was a human hazard.

He further termed the alarm over pesticides created by Rachel Carson's book "Silent Spring" a non-existent fear.

In 25,000 samples of milk taken to check pesticide residue, Myrick said that not one sample came within 10% of the tolerance set for pesticides.

Teacher Certification Transfer Bill Is Held

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

A bill which would transfer determination of teacher certification standards from the Legislature to the State Board of Education was heard and held Thursday by the Education Committee.

The bill, LB740, introduced by Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln, was prepared by the Nebraska Council for Teacher Education and drew broad support from various educational organizations and teacher training institutions.

Representatives of the Nebraska School Improvement Association and two farm organizations opposed the bill, basically on the grounds that they objected to the principle of transferring authority from the Legislature to the Board of Education.

Better Teachers

Proponents of the bill said it was designed to increase the number and quality of teachers for Nebraska children by providing more flexibility in the administration of certification requirements.

The bill would let the board set the term of certificates, determine requirements for initial issuance of certificates, and determine renewal requirements—all within limitations set by statute.

LB740 specifically provides that the board may not require more than two years of college preparation for teachers in Class I and II school districts (present statutory minimum), nor more than 4 years for initial certificates.

The measure also guarantees the renewal of valid certificates in force at the time the bill would become effective.

Specific Policies

R. L. Fredstrom, assistant superintendent of Lincoln schools and representative of NCTE, said the council had asked the state board to establish several specific policies in the event the bill became law, and that two of these agreed upon were:

—that certificates based on a degree be renewable on the basis of successful teaching requirement.

—that the term of renewal for certificates based on degrees be extended from 5 years to 10.

Under present law, teachers must obtain additional college credit hours in order to renew their certificates.

Fredstrom noted that many teachers simply are not able to attend summer school sessions, and thus the profession loses many well-qualified teachers.

Successful Experience

Under the flexibility outlined in the bill, successful teaching experience could be one of the factors for renewal.

It also would be possible to substitute training at special institutes, other than colleges, as a basis for certificate renewals.

Organizations supporting the bill included the State Schools Boards Association, Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers, Nebraska State Education Association, representatives of several local school organizations, Omaha University, Kearney State Teachers College, Hastings College, Midland College, and representatives of parochial schools.

The Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation and Farmers Union joined the NSIA in opposing the bill's transfer of authority from the Legislature to the board on grounds it was placing "too much power" in an administrative unit.

General objectives of the bill in making certification requirements more flexible were supported by these groups, however.

They also questioned how teachers or the public would be advised of the standards set up by the board, but Sen. Orme noted in her closing statements that other laws require administrative agencies to publicize proposed rules and regulations with public hearings to be held so far as practicable.

Safety Council Outlines Needs

Eight categories of traffic safety legislation are considered by the Nebraska Safety Council to be "the most urgent at this time," John E. Everroad, president of the council, has stated in a memorandum to Nebraska legislators.

These 8 areas of greatest need are: additional manpower for the Nebraska Safety Patrol; provisions for periodic reexamination of drivers holding driver licenses; driver education programs in the schools supported by state aid; reflectorized license plates; establishment of a state safety office; physical examination requirements for school bus drivers; adoption of interstate compact for vehicle equipment safety and the driver license compact; compulsory installation of seat bealts on new passenger cars.

NU Board Of Regents Slates Public Session

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents will meet in public session next Tuesday at 2 p.m. in 308 Administration Hall on the Lincoln campus.

Among the items on the agenda are: consider plans for improvements of university heating plant; bids for an addition to the Tractor Testing Laboratory at the College of Agriculture; and purchase of equipment and furnishings for Cather Hall and Pound Hall.

Committee Advances Ban On Insurance Servec Charges

The Legislature's Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee Thursday advanced 7-0 a bill, LB552, seeking to prohibit lending agencies from charging a service charge on insurance policies of real estate mortgages.

The bill was backed by State Insurance Director Frank J. Barrett. He told the committee that many loaning agencies charge a $5 to $20 service charge when a borrower changes his insurance coverage.

Also supporting the measure were several insurance agents and their organizations.

Advanced 6-0 was LB527 proposing to increase from $1,000 to $5,000 the maximum coverage a subdivision of government may provide for its employes in insurance.

Held without action was LB546, a bill which would waive the defense of usury for corporations who by written agreement pay a rate of interest higher than the legal 9% for money.

Sen. F. O. Gottschalk of Columbus said that removal of the interest ceiling would permit high risk corporations to obtain capital on which to operate.

Opposition to the bill contended removal of the interest ceiling would force many small businesses to incorporate before any lending agency would loan them money.

Young 'Solicitors' Nabbed By Police

Two 10-year-old boys were arrested by police after they went door-to-door asking for contributions for the Red Cross, and then pocketed the donations.

During questioning, the boys also admitted several thefts and shoplifting from 4 Lincoln stores and a church.

Senators To Consider $300,000 Roads Study

The Legislature Monday will consider a resolution calling for a $300,000 study of Nebraska highways.

The resolution proposes a study of highway needs with a view toward planning a 20-year program for the state.

The Public Works Committee has recommended passage.

BILL AFFECTING CATTLE WEIGHT IS KILLED BY SENATORS

The Legislature on a 24-6 vote Thursday killed a bill which would have based the price of cattle purchased by weight on the actual weight at the time of sale.

Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance, who made the motion to kill, said LB485 was an "unnecessary" measure. He said it would not do any good and might do harm to cattle sales.

In other action the Legislature passed:

LB259—Allowing first class cities to appoint rather than elect their city clerk and treasurer.

LB445—Eliminating the necessity of filing with the secretary of state for a permit for a slaughtering bond. This filing duplicates one with the U.S. secretary of agriculture.

There is a town near here in north Mexico, in the desert State of Sonora, called Bacanora.

"They make a most delicious liquor," said the Mayor of this tiny cattle-town.

"What do they make it of, Your Excellency?"

"Of maguey, the cactus century plant. Would you like to try some?"

"You may fire when ready, Gridley," I said.

☆ ☆ ☆

A whole crew of us flew in here for the discovery of the tomb of Juan Bautista de Anza. The gallant Spanish captain led 240 colonists out of these wild hills, 2000 miles across desert and mountains to found the city of San Francisco, California.

It was an historic find—underneath the flooring of a Cathedral built three centuries ago when this was the Spanish capital of the western Americas.

Today it is a cattle town of 1500. Isolated—there isn't even a phone.

In honor of the occasion, the padre threw us a little fiesta.

We started off with the bacanora.

☆ ☆ ☆

The mayor came back with a Ballentine Scotch bottle and another of clear glass that may have held soda water.

"This," he said pointing to the clear bottle, "is 10 years old!"

"And the other, Your Excellency?"

"Oh, about a month."

He poured a small glass of the antique bacanora. Ay, Chihuahua! I mean if Captain de Anza was fortified with that stuff, no wonder he could cross deserts and mountains.

It is a wonder to me he didn't take off like an airplane.

"You like it?" asked the Mayor anxiously.

"Delicious," I said.

As a matter of fact, I find with Mexican liquors—(they are all made out of cactus)—that they forget to take the spines out.

"Could I have a glass of water?"

"It would spoil the flavor," said the mayor sternly. He poured me another glass.

Quite a few of the town leaders had come to the padre's house for the celebration. It is not every day that people come to Arizpe.

It is 54 miles and three hours over bumpy roads from the nearest neighbor town.

You fly in by light plane. The pilot buzzes the town twice. This alerts whoever is expecting visitors. He drives out to the dirt airstrip and picks him up.

We came in with gifts of two cases of California champagne. Everybody was fascinated as the corks popped. But champagne is a little light after maguey juice.

"Perhaps if we put in a little bacanora—," said the mayor.

He poured a slug into the champagne for both of us.

"Nectar," he said.

"Aaaagh," I replied.

☆ ☆ ☆

"This is a great day for Arizpe," said the local banker. "Here we become a matter of history overnight. More bacanora?"

"Thank you. Do you think the great Captain de Anza carried this with him on his famous journey?"

"What else? This is what they make in Sonora. The tequila of Jalisco is nothing. The mescal of Oaxaca is for children. Bacanora is for men. Have one more."

"Thank you. Leave out the champagne this time."

"It clears the throat of dust," he said. "It comforts the sick. It improves the healthy. It gives courage to the weak and makes lions of the strong. Without it, perhaps there would be no San Francisco."

I rather think so myself. The Captain didn't do that trip on water.

Withdrawal OK'd Of Road Dept. Personnel Increase Resolution

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff Thursday received permission to withdraw a resolution which would have directed the state highway engineer to immediately add additional personnel necessary to step up highway construction.

Carpenter said he was "naive" to have introduced it in the first place. It was Resolution No. 16.

The resolution would also have directed the state engineer to set pay scales at a level necessary to attract and retain competent personnel.

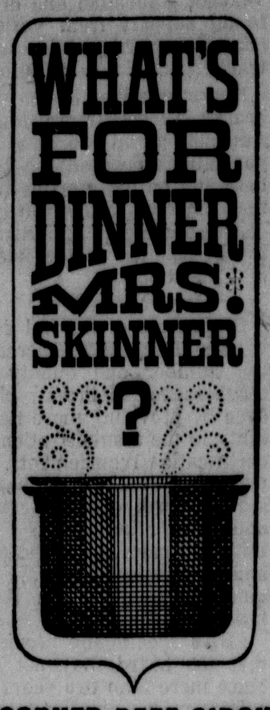
Withdrawal Of Hospital Liability Measure OK'd

Sen. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper received unanimous legislative permission Thursday to withdraw his LB494, a bill eliminating an exemption from liability currently enjoyed by hospitals.

Rasmussen said the subject needs further study.

The bill has "no chance of passage" anyway, he noted.

WHAT'S FOR DINNER MRS. SKINNER ?



CORNED BEEF O'RONI

The luck of the Irish has never been so good

2 cups SKINNER Elbow Macaroni
1 can (1-lb.) whole kernel corn, drained
1 cup cooked peas, drained
1 can (4-oz.) pimientos, drained and chopped
2 Tbsp. finely chopped onion
1 tsp. salt
½ cup French dressing
¼ cup mayonnaise
1 can (12-oz.) corned beef

Cook macaroni as directed on package; drain. Rinse with cold water; drain again. Combine remaining ingredients except corned beef; mix lightly. Cut corned beef into thin strips. Add macaroni and corned beef to vegetables; mix lightly. Chill until serving time. Makes 8 servings. Average cost per serving: 17c.

One caution if you want this hearty main dish salad to taste its best: Be sure you start with Skinner Macaroni. This is the macaroni made with 100% amber durum wheat. That's why it tastes better, cooks better, looks better. Why it has the Golden Glow of Quality.

Class B Winners Run True To Form

By DON SUMMERSIDE
Star Sports Writer

With the exception of the surprising firepower displayed by Pierce, the state Class B carnival appeared to be running true to form after the smoke had cleared in Thursday's opening round at Pershing Auditorium.

Minden, Ogallala, Falls City and Pierce are the survivors and advance to semi-final play tonight. Minden and Ogallala tangle at 7 p.m. with Falls City and Pierce following at 8:45 on the Pershing maples.

Pierce, showing the top early form in the tourney, stunned York with 53 points in the first 3 periods of play and it proved sufficient to withstand a late Dukes charge. Larry Hoefener, 6-2 Bluejay senior, was the top 'B' scorer of the day. He tallied 24 points — 20 coming in the first half — in Pierce's 67-61 victory.

The top seeds — Ogallala and Falls City — suffered from cold play and eked out shaky winning margins in each case. Ogallala nipped Burwell, 45-42, and Falls City squeezed past Madison, 50-48.

In the other opener, Minden used a healthy free-throw advantage to break away in the second half to a 66-50 nod over Blair.

Ogallala 45, Burwell 42

A free throw by Jim Haggard with 8 seconds left sealed the win.

Burwell, trailing 41-33 with 2:29 left in the game, had cut the margin to 44-42 on a jumper by Joe Hoppes with 14 seconds remaining.

Burwell led after one quarter, 10-8, then fell behind by two at the intermission and by 3 after 3 periods.

Hoppes provided a fine shooting display in an otherwise slow-moving contest.

The Burwell senior hit 10 jumpers from his backcourt position and added a free throw for 21 points.

Minden 66, Blair 50

Blair, down by only two at halftime, 33-31, hit just one of 12 charity tossts in the last half and 4 of 18 for the game.

Minden used an effective press to race away to an 18-9 first quarter lead. Larry Hansen, 6-5 Blair senior, stuffed in 11 points to bring Blair within two points of the Whippets at halftime.

The press and the free throws took their toll in the third quarter and Minden widened the gap to 52-38.

Falls City 50, Madison 48

After trailing by 3 at halftime, the Tigers grabbed the lead at 32-30 on a 3-point play by Charlie James with 4:07 left in the 3rd period.

The rest of the battle was nip and tuck. Ernie Strasil converted both shots on a 1-and-1 opportunity with 14 seconds left in the game to give the Tigers a clinching 50-46 margin.

Madison then added a futile two pointer at the gun.

Strasil and Benny Maze, Falls City's two-pronged offensive attack, each hit 16 points. Sophomore Keith Maurer netted 14 for Madison.

Pierce 67, York 61

With Larry Hoefener leading the way, Pierce roared to a 38-26 halftime lead. Hoefener, 6-2 senior, rained through 20 points in the first two quarters.

Pierce widened the gap to 53-38 after 3 stanzas.

Then York began to come alive. The Dukes switched from a zone to a tenacious man for man defense and pulled to within 4 points, 59-55, with 2:28 left in the game. Pierce converted 6 of 8 free throws in the last 2 minutes to seal the win.

Hoefener finished with 24 points to lead the winners. Second half support was supplied by Bob Brand and Dick Brodhagen. Brand finished with 19 and Brodhagen added 18.

Keith Staehr's 17 points topped the York effort.

Lauer Sets Point Mark In Class C

Two night thrillers highlighted opening play of the Class C State Basketball Tournament Thursday.

Gibbon, Scribner, Tecumseh and Utica all advanced to the semifinals scheduled for the Nebraska Coliseum court beginning at 12 noon today.

Gibbon edged Stanton 78-75 in triple overtime. Scribner tipped Sidney St. Pat 61-59 in the other night tilt.

In the afternoon games, Tecumseh managed an easy win over Omaha St. Joe 59-50 andn Utica topped Ponca 63-54.

Utica 63, Ponca 54

Led by the brilliant play of Larry (Skip) Semin, Utica took the lead for good with 2:24 left in the first period and was never headed.

Semin scored 18 points, blocked numerous shots and generally played sparkling ball throughout the game.

Opening the second quarter, Semin scored Utica's first 7 points to boost the Tigers to an 18-14 lead.

Helping the Utica cause were Roger Elrod with 14 points and Clyde Naber with 12.

The Tigers were runner-up in Class C last year to champion Spencer.

Tecumseh 59, O. St. Joe 50

The game was close throughout the first half with the lead changing hands 8 times.

Tecumseh finally took the lead for good with 2:05 left in the 3rd period, when Gary Waring hit a field goal to give Tecumseh a 34-33 edge.

Tecumseh's biggest lead in the final quarter reached 12 points.

Poor free throw shooting hurt both teams. Tecumseh hit 11 of 20 from the line and Omaha managed only 10 of 21.

Scribner 61, Sidney SP 59

The Trojans coasted for most of the game with a 8-point cushion throughout the game. However, with 2:07 remaining in the final period, the Pats rolled up 8 straight points to make the score, 60-59 with 39 seconds left.

However, the taller Trojans barely managed to hang on for the win.

The first half was marked with ragged play. Scribner easily drove to a 36-23 halftime advantage.

The rugged rebounding of Dean Gerths (6-3) and Mike Lamberty (6-2½) paved the way to the 13-point advantage.

Lamberty scored 8 and Gerths 7 to lead the Trojans' attack.

Scribner led all the way during the 1st half, except for a 2-2 tie with 7:45 remaining in the first quarter.

Gibbon 78, Stanton 75

Paced by the record breaking 46 points of 6-7½ Kurt Lauer, Gibbon captured a berth in the Class C semifinals Thursday night by scoring a 78-75 win over Stanton in triple overtime.

Lauer established new records in 3 categories: 1) most field goals with 16, 2) most free throws with 14, and 3) most total points with 46.

In addition to Lauer's starring performance, the teams set two records. The teams total points of 153 and Stanton's losing total of 75 are both new standards.

Terry Dahlkoeher paced the losing Stanton squad with a 21 point performance.

The game then turned into a nip and tuck affair see-saw scrap.

At the end of regulation time the score was tied 62-62 when Lauer missed a 1-and-1 free throw with one second left.

In the first overtime each club scored two points. In the second overtime the teams scored 6 points each with Stanton's tying bucket after the buzzer sounded.

Dahlkoeher's shot bounced around the rim and finally fell in.

In the 3rd overtime Stanton shot to a one point lead, then 2 Lauer free throws put Gibbon ahead before Stanton again regained the lead by a single point.

With 4:46 left Lauer annexed two free throws and Rich Robinson hit a cripple lay-up to eventually ice the game.

Anderzunas Sets Record

. . . WITH 33 POINTS

By CONDE SARGENT
Prep Sports Writer

Individuals stood out like a bull in a china shop as favored Class A high school basketball teams took first round victories Thursday in the State High School Basketball Tournament.

The victors were:
Omaha Tech, 75-57, over Hastings;
Columbus, 60-49, over Scottsbluff;
Creighton Prep, 68-54, over North Platte;
Omaha Central, 52-45, over Lincoln High.

They'll return to the Nebraska Coliseum court tonight for the semifinals. Tech meets Columbus at 7 p.m. and Prep tackles Central at 8:45.

A crowd of around 17,000 saw the two first round sessions with Creighton Prep's Wally Anderzunas emerging the top star.

The 6-7 junior kicked in 15 field goals and 3 charity shots for 33 points to eclipse a pair of records covering tourneys since 1960.

His 15 fielders upped his own mark of 13 set last year while the 33 total bettered 32 by Omaha Tech's Fred Hare also a year ago.

Hare was another busy bee, hitting 22 points while teammate Joe Williams was even better with 27 as Tech riddled Hastings with a hot 3rd quarter.

Central's John Armstrong also stood out, pulling Central out of a dog-eat-dog match with Lincoln High. He had 22 points and hit 6 straight free throws as Lincoln High gamely fought for an upset.

Columbus' disposal of Scottsbluff was pepped by 6-4 Alvin Hulsebus (17 points) and 6-5 Stan Krehbeil (13).

These two big boys, plus help from teammates, could give Tech some trouble tonight.

Columbus 60 Scottsbluff 49

Columbus' tall front line and balanced scoring made the trip to Lincoln a futile one for Scottsbluff.

Guards Gayle Cattau and Leon Fickle were other prominent Discoverers as Columbus got a 14-4 lead in the first quarter and was never threatened.

Gary Niebauer was Scottsbluff's only threat, hitting 22 points and scoring half of his club's field goals.

O. Tech 75 Hastings 57

After a closely fought first half, Tech went on a 3rd period spree that opened up a 66-39 lead going into the final 8 minutes.

Williams, who had a game high of 27 points, paced the attack with 11 points. Hare had 9 during that stanza and Harold Crowe 8. Hare finished with a total of 22.

Everything Tech threw up went in.

And they threw up everything, hooks by both Williams and Hare, scoops by the latter plus 4 jumpers by Crowe.

Williams didn't play any of the last period and Hare just two minutes.

Hastings stayed within 3 to 7 points during the initial half as Tech's shooting was somewhat off.

Creighton Prep 68, North Platte 54

Prep defeated stubborn North Platte, 68-54. Anderzunas scored 33 points and 15 field goals, both of which are Class A records taken from 1960 on.

Anderzunas pulled Prep in front after the intermission.

He had 10 points in the 3rd quarter which saw Prep, co-favorite, with Tech, pull to a 50-38 lead.

Larry Wachholtz directed the creditable North Platte effort.

The 5-9 senior guard flipped in 18 points to lead his team, but was also outstanding on defense and with assists.

Omaha Central took to the free throw line to defeat Lincoln High, 52-45.

The two clubs were locked in a barn burner until the final quarter when Central scored 6 straight points to assume a 7-point lead.

Then the Eagles, who defeated Lincoln High by 20 points in the season, used 10 straight free throws to keep Lincoln High at bay.

John Armstrong kept Central going with 6 free throws in the final period and a game high of 22 points. Lincoln High, which had led as late as midway in the 3rd period, lost its composure briefly to start the final period.

The scrapping Lincoln team couldn't catch up.

Replay Of '62 Title Contest Set In 'D'

. . . TODAY'S SEMIFINALS

A replay of the 1962 championships game and a battle of youngsters will highlight today's Class D semi-finals in the State High School Basketball Tournament.

High noon will see defending class champion Polk test De Witt once again. The two met last year in the championship game. Herman, with only one senior squad member, and Maywood, with no seniors, will meet in the second game at Pershing Auditorium.

Polk advanced to its showdown test with a 56-51 win over Lawrence while De Witt was impressive in the first round with a 60-46 waltz past Center.

Thursday night saw Herman breeze past Dix, 64-49 and Maywood edge Elba, 41-37. Only 8 players scored in the latter game—4 for each team. Herman also got only 4 players in the scoring column, but they got plenty of points.

Polk 56 Lawrence 51

Polk jumped off to a quick 9-1 lead early in the first quarter and Lawrence spent the rest of the game playing catchup.

The closest Lawrence could come was at two points late in the 3rd quarter when they pulled to a 30-28 deficit with 2:44 left on a jump shot by Robert Schroer.

They were within two points also at 32-30 and 34-32. Polk then spurted to a 40-32 advantage early in the final quarter and Lawrence never threatened again.

De Witt 60 Center 46

Doug Tietjen led the winners' surge with a record breaking 32 points. Tietjen's total bettered the old Class D mark at 30 set by Don Beckmann of Garland in 1960 and tied by Allan Closter of Creighton St. Ludger in 1961.

Tietjen set the record with a torrid 4th quarter in which he scored 15 points to put down a stubborn Center quintet.

Center staged a late 3rd quarter blitz to knot the count at 36-all with 1:07 left in the 3rd stanza. Center trailed 26-26 with 3:18 to go when Lee Sealer and Vaughn Friedrichsen led a rally that saw Center score 12 straight points to take a 38-36 lead with 44 seconds remaining in the quarter.

A layup by Tietjen then pulled De Witt even 38-38 going into the final period.

Tietjen then staged his fantastic 4th quarter scoring 10 straight points in the last minute and 31 seconds. He capped the afternoon with a 40-foot set shot at the buzzer.

Junior Robbie Andrew, 6-2, ripped the nets for 11 field goals and 22 points. Sophomore Tom Green, a playmaking guard, got 18 points while 6-1 sophomore Steve Lane added 16 and Bob Ricker, the only senior on the roster, contributed 8.

LA Drums Start

With the 1964 Olympics still a year away, Los Angeles has already launched a tub-thumping campaign—to get the 1968 Olympics.

The LA pitch is that making sure the United States hosts the 1968 Olympics is much more important than which city snares the plum.

Coincidentally, though, the Angelinos admit they're better prepared to host the games than Detroit, Portland, Philadelphia or San Francisco.

LA makes quite a strong case for itself, starting with the statement by Jack Tobin, director of promotion of the Memorial Coliseum and Sports Arena: "It (Los Angeles) is the only city competing for that authorization which is prepared to conduct an Olympiad now, today!

"No massive projected expenditures, no federal aid, no bond issues of questionable sales potential and no spigot on the taxpayer's purse are needed to ready Los Angeles as an Olympic site."

Facilities Ready!

What's Los Angeles got that can be used to impress the International Selection Committee when it meets later this year? Tobin has that information readily available:

—Memorial Coliseum, with 101,528 seats, escalators, air-conditioned dressing rooms, new $150,000 running track.

—Memorial Sports Arena, with 15,500 seats for basketball and 18,000 for boxing.

—Swim Stadium, adjacent to Coliseum with seating for 6,500.

—Olympic Village, at USC with dormitory space for 1,200 and 500 more under construction; USC plans 7,000 dorm spaces by 1968.

—Exposition Armory, for fencing, gymnastics, etc.

—Shrine Auditorium, with seats for 7,000; can be used for weight-lifting, volleyball, etc.

—Olympic Auditorium, with 10,900 seats.

—Parking, 25,000 parking spaces within a 3-block radius of the Memorial Coliseum complex; state-operated lots adjacent will handle 6,000 more and this will be doubled.

That's Not All

While not in the Coliseum complex, Tobin lists these other facilities now available: million-dollar equestrian center, built to Olympic standards, and Hollywood Park race track . . . Olympic-size velodrome now being used by bicycle riders preparing for the Pan American Games . . . Three harbor complexes for yachting, rowing and conoeing events . . . Rancho Cienega—3 miles from the Coliseum—for soccer . . . Police Academy pistol range adjacent to Dodger Stadium (for pentathlon) . . . old Wrigley Field for a training park . . . within 3-mile radius of the proposed Olympic center are 15 colleges, junior colleges and high schools with track and field and gymnasium facilities . . . LA can now accommodate 30,000 visitors in hotels and motels and the figure is expected to be 35,000 to 40,000 by 1968.

Money-Maker?

Tobin estimates Olympic Games in Los Angeles would gross $17 million, basing this on the fact Angelinos (and their guests) turned out 11,610,780-strong as paying customers to sports events in 1962.

As if this wasn't enough to net Los Angeles a nomination by acclamation, Tobin supplies some interesting track information:

"Since 1937, no less than 44 world records have been established by Southern California meets in Olympic events or their linear equivalents. Even more remarkable, 36 of those records have been set in the last 10 years, an average of more than 3½ new world marks per year."

It will be interesting to see if other U.S. cities anxious to host the Olympics surrender or join a game of "Can You Top This."

PS: Chances are, however, the ICC will hear all the evidence and then decide to award the 1968 Olympics to Capetown, South Africa. ("We haven't been there for some time, you know.") Of course, that would give the AAU a chance to blame something else "cause internationale" on the U.S. Track and Field Federation.

Memphis State, Villanova Win In NIT

New York (AP)— Memphis State's tall Tigers overwhelmed Fordham 70-49 and Wally Jones sparked Villanova to a 63-51 victory over DePaul in the opening doubleheader of the 26th National Invitation Basketball Tournament Thursday night.

The two first-round winners advanced to Saturday night's quarter-final doubleheader, with Villanova meeting top-seeded Wichita and Memphis State taking on Canisius.

Memphis State, with an advantage of two inches per man, led Fordham's scrambling Rams only 29-27 at the intermission. But the Tigers from Tennessee quickly took charge on a second half drive, led by George Kirk.

The Tigers caught fire, capitalizing on their superior height and scoring balance. They clicked for 6 straight points at the onset of the second half and 8 minutes deep into the half they were in complete command with a 46-33 margin.

During that span, Fordham, unable to go through or over the Memphis State zone, managed only 3 field goals.

Once State began moving, it turned into no contest. The Tigers controlled the boards and almost completely broke up a cohesive Fordham offense that had showed a crowd-pleasing spirit in the opening half.

Kirk finished as high man in the game with 21 points, getting 13 in the second half. John Hillman added 14 for Memphis State, Hunter Beckman had 12 and Jamie McMahan 11.

Koufax, Davis Lead Dodgers To 5-2 Victory Over Yanks

. . . WHITEY FORD BLASTED IN FIRST

By Associated Press

The Los Angeles Dodgers beat the New York Yankees 5-2 Thursday in the first meeting of the teams favored to clash in baseball's World Series in October.

Sandy Koufax's pitching and two homers by Tommy Davis combined to send the world champion Yankees down to their 5th defeat in 6 spring exhibition games. It was the Dodgers' 4th victory in 5 games.

Koufax, whose injury to the index finger of his pitching hand dealt the Dodgers' pennant hopes a severe blow last season. gave up 3 hits and one unearned run in the 5 innings he pitched at Fort Lauderdale.

Whitey Ford, southpaw ace, started for the Yankees and was knocked out in the first inning. Mickey Mantle banged out two hits but Roger Maris, the other half of the Yankees' homer twins, sat out the game because of a pulled muscle on his right side.

Gordie Coleman's 9th inning homer with two out gave Cincinnati a 3-2 victory over St. Louis at Tampa. Milwaukee also won in the 9th inning, beating Detroit 4-3 at West Palm Beach on Jim McKnight's single with Denny Menke on 3rd.

Minnesota came up with 6 runs in the 9th inning at Miami, but it wasn't enough to avert an 11-7 defeat by Baltimore. It was the 5th straight win for the unbeaten Orioles who are leading the exhibition standings.

In Thursday's other games Kansas City, helped by pitcher Ted Bowsfield's two-run triple, beat Philadelphia 5-1 at Clearwater; the Los Angeles Angels downed the Chicago Cubs 5-2 at Mesa, Ariz.; Washington defeated the New York Mets 4-2 at St. Petersburg; the Chicago White Sox, led by Ron Hansen's bases-loaded homer, crushed Pittsburgh at Fort Myers 16-5 and Cleveland whipped San Francisco 7-3 at Phoenix,.

Houston came from behind a 9-0 score at the end of 3 innings to beat Boston 12-11 in 10 innings at Apache Junction, Ariz.

Columbus Gal Wields Brush

. . . FOR PLAYER PORTRAITS

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Credit Linda Krumland of Columbus with introducing a new twist to the colorful proceedings which surround the state basketball tournament.

Miss Krumland, a member of the Discoverers's rooting section, has artistic talents in addition to her cheering abilities — so she contributed both to help Columbus pop Scottsbluff, 60-49, in the second Class A game Thursday afternoon.

Linda produced giant portraits of the 5 Discoverer starters — Leon Fickle, Marvin Mueller, Gayle Cattau, Stan Krehbiel and Alvin Hulsebus.

And whenever one of the quintet got a cheer from the Columbus pep section, Linda hoisted a portrait.

First Casualty

Mrs. Bill Gogan, wife of the Scottsbluff coach, became University of Nebraska therapist-trainer George Sullivan's first patient of the tournament — and the only one of the first session.

But Mrs. Gogan's injury didn't happen at the Coliseum. She slammed a thumb in a car door — a mighty painful way to start the tourney.

Duffy Returns

Gene Duffy, former Lincoln Chiefs' outfielder, was a tourney spectator Thursday.

The former Notre Dame All-American cager — although he stands only 5-6 — is athletic business manager and assistant basketball coach at Creighton University.

The ex-Chief was doing some scouting for Bluejay coach Red McManus, who is on a similar junket in Los Angeles, Calif.

Tigerettes Shine

Sparkling halftime entertainment was supplied during the first Class A game by the Hastings Tigerettes, precision drilling group.

The Hastings coeds, complete with color bearers, were making their second tourney appearance.

Gal Photog

One of the many photographers covering the tourney is a cute University of Nebraska coed, Miss Cindy Grainger of Omaha.

She was popping bulbs for the Daily Nebraskan — and one was unscheduled.

During the Columbus-Scottsbluff game, one of Cindy's camera bulbs exploded unexpectedly, showering fragment of the playing floor, as she got set to shoot some free throw action.

Jam Session

Scottsbluff used a page from Oklahoma's basketball book —pre-game music piped to the dressing room.

NU officials supplied an extension cord for the Bearcat music machine — but the cool notes weren't enough to stop Columbus, which took a 60-49 victory over the Bluffs crew.

Information Booth

NU members of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, are again manning an information and courtesy booth at the Coliseum.

Referees' Revelations Show Love Of Game

By GENE BUDIG
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

What has black and white stripes, no emotions and few friends?

"A newspaper," answered one cheerleader from Minden.

I shook my head (a boss was nearby).

From across the basketball floor came another positive reply, "Him . . . him . . . him." A waving finger zeroed in on a referee.

That, I agreed, was closer to what I had in mind.

Then I asked myself, could they be that bad? A trip to their dressing room cleared up the matter.

"I love kids and I love the game of basketball," declared one of the refs, peeling off a sweat-spattered shirt. "A guy has to love 'em to go through all of this."

3-Mile Trek

He said the Blair-Minden Class B opener took his "not-so-young feet" more than 3 miles.

"We always run at least 3 miles during an average game," claimed a fellow official, who once traced his steps mechanically.

A majority of the referees are junior and senior high school coaches or former coaches. They are paid $17.50 a game at the state tourney, plus $15 a day expenses.

"We're not in it for the money," added still another whistle-carrier, who added, "I've never had a bottle thrown at me in my 19 years of officiating."

No Scars

None of the officials at Pershing Auditorium Thursday displayed any scars inflicted by irate fans over the years.

"Generally," one of the officials said, "The fans are easy to get along with at the games. Sometimes they get a bit jittery, but so do we."

And what's more, the refs eat steaks after games, not nails, as some believe. They even smile occasionally.

ZEPHYRS TO CHANGE SITES

Chicago (AP) — Directors of the Chicago Zephyrs decided Thursday to transfer the National Basketball Association team to a city "where conditions are more favorable to them."

But President Dave Trager kept everyone guessing by also announcing that the team may not go to Baltimore, as he previously had indicated.

Trager told newsmen some fine offers have come this week from Cleveland, Philadelphia and Kansas City, but Baltimore is the leading contender.

Wise Stables' World Record Racehorse Dies

Hot Springs, Ark. (AP) — Golden Notes, a thoroughbred racehorse with lifetime earnings of $275,455 and the holder of a world track record, died Monday at Oaklawn Park here, it was revealed Thursday.

The 9-year-old star from the stable of Bryan H. Wise of Benton Harbor, Mich., was the victim of an organic ailment.

NCAA Regionals Match 16 Quintets

. . . CINCINNATI LEADS PARADE OF SURVIVORS

By Associated Press

The Cincinnati Bearcats, who have been the nation's No. 1 college basketball team longer than most people can remember, and 15 other dribble powers clash Friday night at 4 regional sites in the semifinals of the 25th NCAA tournament.

The Bearcats, who finished second to Ohio State in the Associated Press top 10 rankings in 1961 and 1962, belied the experts' judgment both years by winning the NCAA championships. They were voted the No. 1 position this season. They meet Texas in one half of a doubleheader at Lawrence, Kan., Friday. Colorado, 18-6 and rated 10th nationally, meets Oklahoma City (19-9) in the other game.

Cincinnati, boasting All-America star Ron Bonham, ended the season with a 23-1 record. Texas, Southwest Conference champion, has a 19-6 record, and beat Texas Western in a first round game, 65-47.

Eight of the AP's top 10 teams are in the NCAA. Wichita, No. 5 is favored in New York's NIT tourney, and Ohio State, No. 7, the 1960 NCAA champion, was eliminated as Big 10 co-champs by Illinois because the Buckeyes competed in the NCAA last year.

At College Park, Md., Duke (24-2) and ranked No. 2 nationally, meets New York U. (18-3) and rated No. 9; while West Virginia (22-7) plays St. Joseph's of Philadelphia (21-5).

Three top ranked teams compete at East Lansing, Mich., with Chicago Loyola No. 3 and 25-2 opposing Mississippi State No. 6 and 21-5; and Illinois No. 8 and 19-5 meeting Bowling Green (19-6).

Arizona State (25-2) and rated No. 4, meets UCLA (20-7) in one half of the Provo, Utah, regional twin bill. Oregon State (20-7) plays San Francisco (17-8) in the other game.

All Americans

In addition to Cincinnati's Bonham, 3 other All-America aces will be seen in action. The top billing comes at College Park in a duel between Duke's Art Heyman, player of the year, and NYU's Barry Kramer.

Jerry Harkness, Loyola's All-America, goes against Mississippi State as the Southeastern Conference champs enter the NCAA tourney and drop their ban against playing teams with Negro athletes.

The hoop roadshow travels to Louisville, Ky. for the big payoff. Saturday's winners at College Park and East Lansing meet in one game next Friday at Louisville, with the winners at Lawrence and Provo tangling in the other game. The championship game is set for Saturday, March 23.

Court Allows Miss. St. To Play In NCAA

Jackson, Miss. (AP)—Supreme Court Judge Robert Gillespie agreed Thursday to suspend a chancery court order prohibiting Mississippi State University from playing in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Basketball tourney.

The state attorney general's office, charged with acting as counsel for the State College Board, sought the ruling to suspend the effectiveness of the lower court order pending a hearing on the order on a merits of the matter.

The action was granted on the basis the original order came without due notice to affected parties.

The suspension will remain in effect pending a hearing on the entire matter. The suspension means the original order blocking Mississippi State from playing against Loyola of Chicago at East Lansing, Mich., Friday night will not be in effect.

Committee Backs Dove Killing Bill

The Legislature's Agriculture Committee went on record Thursday as favoring the killing of doves.

After a kill attempt had been defeated, the committee sent LB450, with 3 amendments, to the Legislative floor on a 4-2 vote.

The bill, principally introduced by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, drew the anticipated capacity crowd to the public hearing.

Seventeen proponents of the bill testified during the hour allotted to each of the proponent and opposition elements.

Top Finman Quits At Iowa State

Ames, Iowa (UPI) — Rol Wellman, one of Iowa State's top swimmers, dropped out of school Thursday and announced plans to transfer to the University of Wyoming.

Wellman, 21, Omaha, was majoring in Animal Husbandry at Iowa State but said he wanted to become a ranch manager and Wyoming offered courses in ranch management which suited him better than the farm management courses here.

New Zealand To Play Filipinos In Davis Cup

Manila (AP) — The Philippines will meet New Zealand in the first round of the Davis Cup Eastern Zone tennis tournament here March 29, 30, 31.

Congressional Aid Sought By Dworak

Omaha (AP)—Mayor James Dworak asked Sens. Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska and Rep. Glenn Cunningham, Nebraska Republicans, Thursday to intervene in the Internal Revenue Service proposed move of certain facilities from Omaha.

In telegrams to the trio, the mayor said about 250 families would be uprooted from Omaha under the merger plan with the Chicago IRS would make no actual savings dollarwise in the proposed move. He added that he had received several letters charging it was a political move and not in the best interests of the agency.

Meanwhile the Omaha chapter of the National Association of Internal Revenue Employes has notified its national headquarters that moving the Omaha headquarters will work a hardship on employes of the service.

The association, which represents some 500 IRS employes here, suggested Omaha would be a more logical site than Chicago for the merged headquarters.

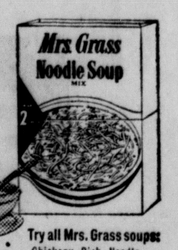
take it from the kids—

"We all like Mrs. Grass Soup BETTER...

...except Billy, he's a wild one"

ABOUT 1,000 kids tasted Mrs. Grass noodle soup and another famous brand. 3 out of 4 preferred Mrs. Grass. Number 4 probably hated soup anyway.

THE "ALL-AMERICAN" KID GOES FOR MRS. GRASS SOUP BECAUSE:
It tastes home-made—mild, pleasoning seasoning.
It has more flavor—because it has the exclusive Golden Nugget, with its sealed-in chicken-y flavor.
It has more noodles—50% more.
AND it's so economical—25% more soup than other mixes.



Why not let Mrs. Grass make the soup in your house?

Try all Mrs. Grass soups:

And Snow Crop makes this delightful surprise so easy with these ready-to-heat savory, vegetable treats already packaged in shiny aluminum casseroles. Just slip them in the oven, heat and serve...then listen to his enthusiastic praise. Oh, it's going to be a rewarding dinner.

Here's a window you don't have to look through

Almost any bacon looks good through the window. It's the part you can't see that's important.

An Armour Star on the package tells you that the bacon inside will fry crisp, yet eat tender... because its lean and its fat are as perfectly balanced as can be.

You can depend on this. We select our bacon slabs... turn down two pretty good ones to find one perfect one. Then we cut away both ends to get at the choice mid-section where the broad meaty slices come from. And that's the only kind of bacon that ever sees the inside of this package.

Armour Star is the bacon the butcher brings home

Stock Market Prices Down

New York (AP)—A continued stock market rise failed to gather support Thursday and the market declined amid a display of late weakness.

Turnover dwindled to 3.54 million shares from Wednesday's 4.12 million.

It was the first of 5 sessions that more stocks declined than advanced. In the preceding week the market had carved out a substantial rise in the averages, so there was ample room for profit taking by traders, according to Wall Street observers.

The late decline was moderate. The Dow Jones industrial average lost 3.93 at 673.73.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .7 to 256.3 with industrials off 2.2, rails unchanged and utilities up .3.

Of 1,290 issues traded, losers outnumbered gainers by 641 to 355. New highs for 1962-63 totaled 28 and new losw three.

Eight of the 15 most active stocks declined, 5 advanced, and two were unchanged.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Volume rose to 1.04 million shares from 890,000 Wednesday.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were irregularly higher.

MARKETS AT GLANCE

New York (AP)—

Soybeans — Mostly weak; liquidation.

Hogs — Weak to 25 cents higher; top $14.50.

Slaughter steers — Offerings too light for market test.

'Canvas Given To Everyone' NAACP Told

"Each of us has been given a canvas on which we can paint the most beautiful picture possible," Mrs. Maxine Morrison told the annual meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Thursday night.

"If we don't do it," the governor's wife went on, "it's our own fault."

Also appearing on the program of the Lincoln branch of the NAACP were Mrs. Hugh Bullock, president; Mrs. John Perdue, who presented the music; the Rev. Charles S. Stephen of the Lincoln Unitarian Church, giving the invocation; and the Rev. G. L. Collins of Mt. Zion Baptist and former president of the Lincoln NAACP, who gave the benediction.

William (Thunder) Thornton, football player at the University of Nebraska, was scheduled as master of ceremonies, but he was taken ill.

He was replaced by Dr. Albert Schrekinger, associate professor of social work at the University of Nebraska.

AN ORDINANCE amending Section 19.04.010 of the Lincoln Municipal Code, being a part of the Fire Prevention Code; and repealing said Section 19.04.010 of the Lincoln Municipal Code.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That Section 19.04.010 of the Lincoln Municipal Code be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"19.04.010. CODE ADOPTED. For the purpose of prescribing regulations governing conditions hazardous to life and property from fire or explosion, there is hereby adopted the "Fire Prevention Code" recommended by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, 1960 Edition, together with the November 1961 amendments and corrections, together with the "Standards Representing Nationally Recognized Good Practices as Listed in Appendixes B and C of said Fire Prevention Code"; provided, that the restrictions of the Code set forth in Article 12 which may be applicable to components used in the reloading of small arms ammunition shall not govern, even though such components may be classified as Class B explosive by the Interstate Commerce Commission, if the following conditions are met:

(1) A permit to possess, store, keep, sell, or otherwise dispose of such components, but only for the purpose of reloading small arms ammunition shall be required; such permit to be issued by the Chief of the Fire Department.

(2) The permit shall not be issued for a quantity of such components in excess of five hundred pounds.

(3) The Permit shall be subject to such regulations as the Chief of the Fire Department may impose which are reasonably necessary to protect and safeguard persons and property.

(4) All other requirements imposed by the ordinances of the City of Lincoln are not violated."

Section 2. That Section 19.04.010 of the Lincoln Municipal Code as hitherto existing, be and it hereby is repealed.

SPRING HAS SPRUNG

And caution's been flung
Our lot's in full bloom
And it's high prices we'll doom
Rare lovlies are all
In them, driving's a ball
Such friendliness is beyond belief
And priced so low you'll feel like a thief
The object of this rhyme is amusement not Really, it's just to get you on our lot!
